1.1 INTRODUCTION

Internship is an important component of MA and BA Psychology programme that provides the learners with hands on practice.

The details of internship are given in the Handbook of Internship and whether the learner is carrying out regular or online internship, it is important that he/ she reads the Handbook of Internship.

1.1.1 Credits and specialisation

For MA Psychology, the Internship course (MPCE015/025/035) is of 8 credits. As each credit is of 30 hours, the internship is of 240 hours (8 x 30= 240). The internship is taken as per the specialisation chosen by you in second year.

For BA Psychology, the Internship course (BPCE023) is of 4 credits. As each credit is of 30 hours, the internship is of 120 hours (4 x 30= 120). The internship is taken as per the course either BPCE014/ BPCE015 or BPCE017 taken by you in third year.

1.1.2 Regular Internship

For Regular Internship please follow the guidelines given in the handbook of Internship. Also take necessary precautions and follow the safety guidelines as stated by the Government. Learners who have registered for MA Psychology second year/ BDP- BA Psychology third year can go for regular internship. Though it is advisable that you go through the theory courses of second year (BPCE014/ BPCE015/ BPCE017 in case of BDP- BA Psychology) before you take up regular internship so that you have some background knowledge about the subject area.

1.1.3 Online Internship (temporary provision due to COVID19 pandemic)

Due to the COVID19 pandemic, it could be difficult for the learners of MA Psychology (MAPC) and BDP-BA Psychology to carry out regular internship. Therefore, the Discipline of Psychology is providing the learners who have registered for their final year before or during July, 2020 (that is those who have paid fees and registered for final year by July, 2020) an option to carry out Online Internship. This is a temporary provision due to the current COVID19 pandemic. This is not applicable for learners who have reregistered for MA Second year/ BDP-BA (Psychology) third year during January 2021 admission cycle or later batches.

In this regard, a proposal is to be submitted (via email) by the learner to internship@ignou.ac.in. The proposal received from the learner will be scrutinised by the faculty members of the discipline and the status will be informed to the learner. The online internship can be started only after the approval from the Discipline of Psychology is received by the learner.
