Foreword

The Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU) was established with a visionary mandate to democratize higher education and make quality learning accessible to all, especially the marginalized and underserved sections of society. In keeping with this vision, IGNOU has consistently focused on building a learner-centric ecosystem that addresses the diverse needs of millions of students across the country and abroad.

The Open, Distance and Digital Learning (ODDL) mode comes with unique challenges, but it also offers immense opportunities for innovation in pedagogy and learner support. In the context of the evolving higher education landscape and the transformative vision outlined in the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, IGNOU continues to strengthen its systems to ensure responsiveness to learners' needs, particularly in the areas of digital learning, inclusive outreach, and academic support. The University's focus remains on enhancing the quality of learner experience through a blend of innovation, continuous feedback, and institutional capacity building.

This document titled "Learning Environment and Support for IGNOU Learners (2020-2025)" presents a comprehensive account of the institutional mechanisms, pedagogical approaches, and support services that constitute the core of the IGNOU learning experience. It outlines the multi-tiered framework of learner support that includes academic counselling, multimedia-based content delivery, ICT-enabled services, and a nationwide network of Learner Support Centres, all designed to facilitate meaningful learner engagement and success.

I am pleased to present this document, which outlines the enabling environment that IGNOU strives to create for its learners. It not only reflects our institutional practices but also reaffirms our unwavering dedication to the cause of inclusive, flexible, and learner-friendly education in alignment with the goals of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020.

I commend the efforts of the academic team involved in preparing this document and hope that it will serve as a valuable reference document for policymakers, educators, researchers, and all stakeholders committed to strengthening learner support in the ODDL system.

Prof. Uma Kanjilal
Vice Chancellor
Indira Gandhi National Open University

Acknowledgment

In alignment with the strategic objectives of the Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU), and in view of its continued commitment to institutional excellence, the Centre for Internal Quality Assurance (CIQA) undertook the task of developing a comprehensive calendar of activities to guide and support preparations for the second cycle of NAAC accreditation and the NIRF 2026 ranking process. These activities were designed to address critical domains, including NAAC-related documentation and data validation, National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 implementation, data capturing and analysis for the National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF), and the development of Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs), policy documents and best practices to streamline internal processes and ensure compliance with national quality benchmarks.

To accomplish these multifaceted tasks in a time-bound and systematic manner, the Hon'ble Vice Chancellor constituted a series of committees comprising academic and administrative professionals from across the University. Each committee was entrusted with a specific thematic area, with the responsibility of planning, preparing, and reviewing documentation and institutional practices in accordance with the evolving frameworks of quality assurance and regulatory expectations.

The Centre for Internal Quality Assurance (CIQA) sincerely acknowledges and appreciates the outstanding commitment, scholarly engagement, and collaborative spirit demonstrated by all committee members. Their meticulous attention to detail, academic rigour, and deep understanding of the institutional processes were critical to the successful preparation of comprehensive and credible documentation in support of the University's goals. The committee members and preparation team undertook additional responsibilities beyond their regular duties, working diligently to collate data, contribute to narrative reports, validate evidence, and ensure alignment with national quality parameters.

The committee's collective efforts have greatly strengthened the University's internal quality systems and have contributed meaningfully to projecting IGNOU's distinct status as a national resource in the field of open and distance and online education. Their work reflects not only professional excellence but also a shared vision of advancing IGNOU's mission of inclusive and quality higher education across the country and beyond. CIQA acknowledges the contribution of the Regional Services Division, Electronic Media Production Centre, Centre for Online Education, and IGNOU Regional Centres for providing the necessary information and access to its records which helped in completing the document on "Learning Environment and Support for IGNOU Learners (2020-2025)".

CIQA places on record its deep gratitude to the Hon'ble Vice Chancellor for her support, insightful leadership, and guidance. Above all, CIQA extends its heartfelt thanks to each committee member and the preparation team for their valuable contributions, without which the timely completion of this critical institutional endeavour would not have been possible.

1. Introduction

A supportive and inclusive learning environment is essential for the effectiveness of the Open, Distance and Digital Learning (ODDL) system, as it significantly contributes to learner engagement, motivation, and academic achievement. Unlike conventional classroom-based education, ODDL often involves limited face-to-face interaction, which may result in learners experiencing a sense of isolation while pursuing their studies independently.

In this context, fostering a strong sense of community, inclusivity, and academic support becomes particularly important. These elements (Fig. 1) play a vital role in encouraging meaningful learner participation, enhancing learner retention, and improving overall learning outcomes within the ODDL framework, as illustrated below:

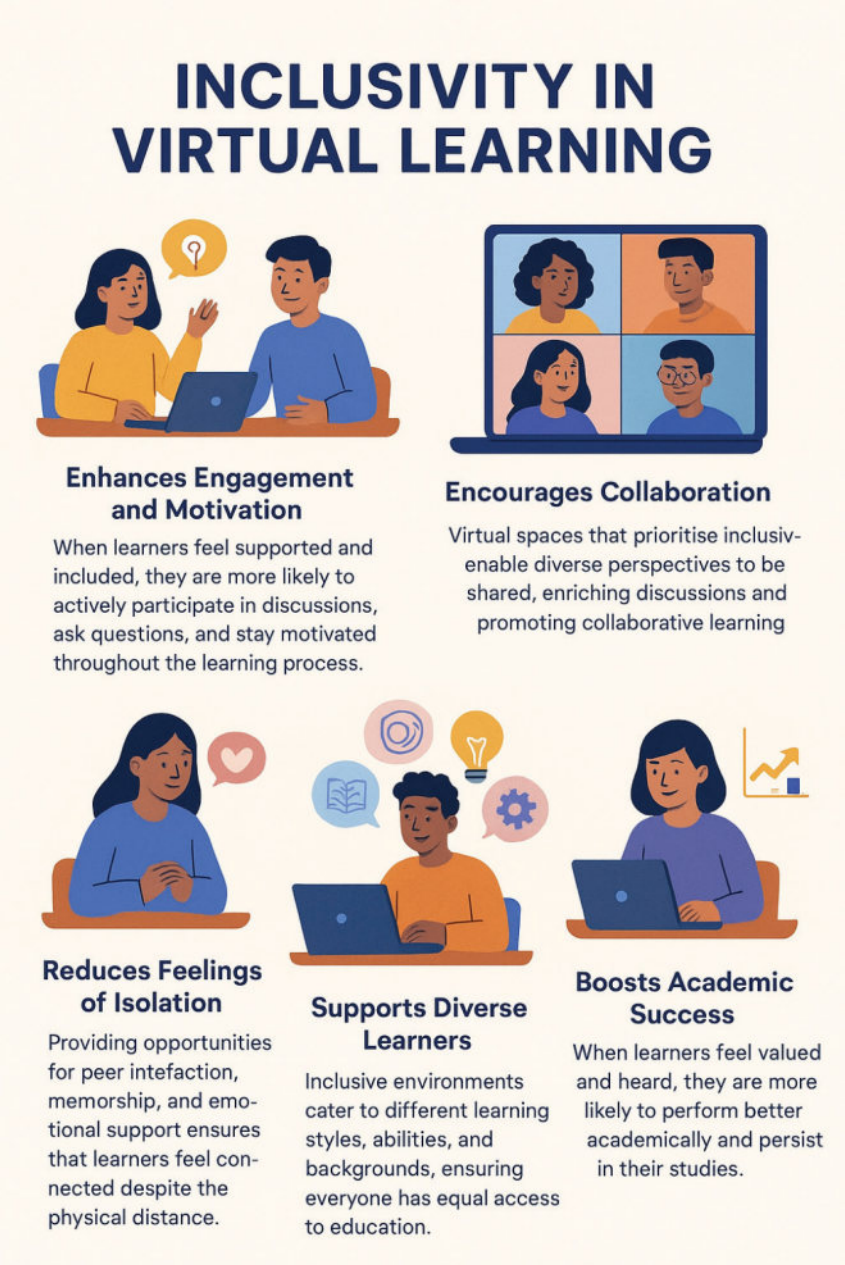

Fig. 1: Elements of ODL Framework

Such an environment can be fostered through the effective use of interactive technologies, clear and continuous communication, collaborative learning activities, and open dialogue that values and respects diversity within the ODDL system.

Through its flexible academic approach and ICT-enabled delivery mechanisms, the University has continuously expanded access to education for remote, rural, and underserved populations, thereby contributing to the enhancement of the Gross Enrolment Ratio (GER) in the country over the past four decades.

The University remains committed to democratising education by offering flexible, equitable, and learner-centric learning opportunities to diverse sections of society. It has evolved into a globally recognised institution in ODDL, serving millions of learners across India and abroad.

IGNOU's mission is to provide high-quality, innovative, and need-based academic programmes at various levels, ensuring accessibility and affordability for all sections of society, including disadvantaged and marginalised groups. The University is dedicated to delivering sustainable, learner-centric education, skill development, and training by effectively leveraging information and communication technologies.

A key feature of IGNOU's educational philosophy is the emphasis on flexibility, enabling learners to choose programmes that align with their individual needs, professional commitments, and personal circumstances. By adopting a learner-centric approach, the University places learners at the core of the academic process. It offers a wide range of academic programmes with multiple entry and exit options, thereby allowing learners to progress at their own pace and convenience. This approach is further strengthened through a comprehensive learner support system comprising an extensive network of Regional Centres (RCs) and Learner Support Centres (LSCs), which provide academic as well as administrative support to learners across the country and through Overseas Study Centres abroad.

Equity and inclusiveness constitute another fundamental pillar of IGNOU's mission. The University is committed to extending the reach of higher education to marginalised and underserved communities, particularly those residing in remote and rural areas. In pursuit of this commitment, IGNOU provides free education to jail inmates and has established Special Learner Support Centres (SLSCs) in prisons across the country. Additionally, the University designs and offers programmes tailored to the specific educational and skill development needs of socially and economically disadvantaged groups, thereby ensuring that inclusive and accessible higher education becomes a reality for all sections of society.

To further enhance accessibility and enrich the learner experience, IGNOU has extensively integrated technology into its educational delivery systems. Digital platforms such as eGyanKosh, Gyanvani, and Gyandarshan serve as important repositories and dissemination channels for educational content, supporting self-paced and flexible learning. The Centre for Online Education also plays a significant role in facilitating online education through platforms such as SWAYAM, SWAYAMPRABHA, and the IGNOU Learning Management System (LMS), which offer a wide range of online courses and learning resources. Collectively, these initiatives enable learners to access quality educational materials anytime and anywhere, reinforcing the University's commitment to flexible, inclusive, and technology-enabled learning opportunities in alignment with its mission.

1.1 Learner-centric System

The focus in Open and Distance Learning shifts from the traditional instructor-led model to a learner-centric approach, wherein learners are recognised as active participants in a self-directed learning process. This paradigm acknowledges the learner's responsibility in managing their own educational journey by setting learning goals, identifying appropriate resources, and monitoring their academic progress.

Self-directed learning forms a fundamental component of the instructional design adopted by IGNOU for programmes offered through distance and online modes. Learners are encouraged to design their own study schedules and actively engage with self-learning resources and support systems made available by the University. This approach empowers learners to assume greater responsibility and ownership of their education. The essential components of this learner-centric model include the following (Fig. 2):

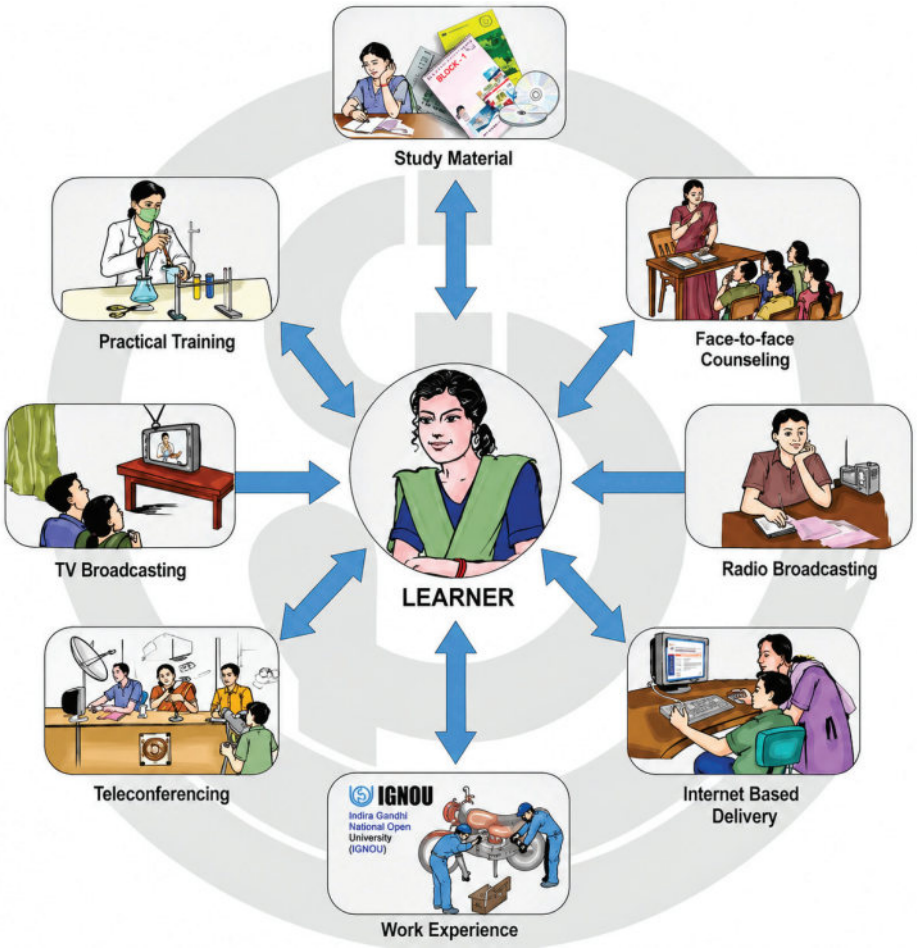

Fig. 2: Learner-Centric instructional system of IGNOU

i. Self-Learning Material (SLM):

The University provides well-structured and comprehensive Self-Learning Materials (SLMs) specifically designed to facilitate independent learning. Developed by subject experts, these materials follow a learner-friendly format that promotes active engagement, conceptual clarity, and self-paced study.

ii. Self-Assessment Exercises:

Each SLM incorporates self-assessment exercises under sections such as "Check Your Progress" or "Self-Assessment Questions" or "Terminal Questions". These exercises enable learners to assess their understanding, monitor academic progress, and identify areas requiring additional attention and study.

iii. Flexibility in Learning:

The IGNOU system offers considerable flexibility, allowing learners to study according to their own pace, schedule, and convenience. Features such as multiple entry and exit options, extended programme completion duration, and choice-based learning pathways cater to the diverse needs of learners.

iv. Access to Online Resources:

To strengthen self-directed learning, learners are provided access to a wide range of digital educational resources, including eGyanKosh, SWAYAM, SWAYAMPRABHA, GyanDarshan, GyanVani, and the University's educational content available through YouTube and other online platforms.

v. Academic Counselling:

Academic counselling support is provided through face-to-face sessions at Learner Support Centres (LSCs) as well as through online platforms. These sessions offer learners academic guidance, opportunities for clarification of doubts, and interaction with counsellors and peers.

vi. Tutor Marked Assignments (TMAs):

Tutor Marked Assignments constitute an integral component of the continuous assessment process. Constructive feedback provided by evaluators helps learners improve their understanding and ensures that learning remains progressive, reflective, and outcome-oriented.

vii. Practical Components and Field-Based Activities:

Programmes requiring experiential learning include mandatory practical sessions, fieldwork, project work, internships, and other field-based activities aimed at strengthening learners' practical and applied competencies.

viii. Assessment and Feedback Mechanisms:

Through assignments, project evaluations, and continuous tutor feedback, learners are encouraged to reflect upon their performance and undertake necessary improvements, thereby reinforcing the overall learning process.

ix. Term-End Evaluation:

Summative assessment is conducted through Term-End Examinations (TEE), which evaluate the extent to which learners have achieved the prescribed learning outcomes and course objectives.

x. Award of Degrees, Diplomas, and Certificates:

Upon successful completion of all prescribed academic requirements, including assignments, practicals, projects, internships, and examinations, learners are awarded degrees, diplomas, or certificates by the University.

1.2 Learner Support Services

IGNOU caters to the higher educational needs of diverse socio-economic groups and geographically dispersed populations across the country. This extensive outreach is facilitated through its widespread network of Regional Centres (RCs), Learner Support Centres (LSCs) and Overseas Study Centres (OSCs).

Given the limited face-to-face interaction with learners, as compared to conventional classroom-based teaching-learning systems, it becomes essential to ensure continuity in learning, minimise barriers in the academic journey, and reduce learner dropouts. In the ODDL system, learner support therefore assumes a much broader and more comprehensive role that extends beyond teaching-learning processes and assessment mechanisms alone. It requires a deeper understanding of the overall learning context, challenges, and capacities of learners.

Accordingly, learner support services at IGNOU are designed and delivered through a three-tier support system, making the model holistic, learner-centric, and responsive to the diverse needs of learners (Fig. 3).

Fig. 3: Support services provided to learners

1.3 Institutional Mechanism for Learner Support

At the Headquarters of the University, various Divisions and Centres work in coordination to ensure that learners receive timely, efficient, and comprehensive support throughout their academic journey. These include the Regional Services Division (RSD), Student Registration Division (SRD), Material Production and Distribution Division (MPDD), Library and Documentation Division (LDD), Student Evaluation Division (SED), International Division (ID), Centre for Online Education, Electronic Media Production Centre (EMPC), and the Student Services Centre (SSC).

The Regional Services Division (RSD) serves as the nodal division of IGNOU for organising and delivering learner support services across the country. Established in 1986, RSD has been entrusted with the responsibility of developing policies, systems, and procedures for establishing and managing learner support services through the University's extensive network of Regional Centres (RCs) and Learner Support Centres (LSCs). The Division plays a pivotal role in strengthening learner support mechanisms and ensuring effective programme delivery throughout the nation.

The major functions of RSD broadly include the following:

- Monitoring, managing, facilitating, and coordinating effective programme delivery;
- Ensuring efficient learner support services;
- Developing policies, systems, and procedures for the establishment and management of Regional Centres (RCs) and Learner Support Centres (LSCs);
- Organising and administering the national network of RCs and LSCs;
- Liaising with State Government departments, educational institutions, and voluntary organisations for the establishment of new RCs and LSCs;
- Creating academic support resources, including the empanelment of Academic Counsellors for learner support;
- Organising orientation programmes for part-time functionaries associated with Learner Support Centres; and
- Managing funding and expenditure control for RCs and LSCs.
- The International Division coordinates and oversees the establishment and the functioning of the Overseas Study Centres located in various countries abroad. It also monitors, manages, facilitates, and coordinates effective programme delivery of IGNOU programmes to International learners.

Student Services Committee (SSC)

The Student Services Committee (SSC) of the University is a Standing Committee functioning under the Board of Management and operating within the framework of the Regional Services Division. The Committee is responsible for formulating policies, guidelines, and strategies to strengthen and ensure effective learner support services across the University. As on date, 54 meetings of the SSC have been conducted, of which 8 meetings were held during the review period from 2020 to 2025.

1.4 Types of Learner Support

In the ODDL system, learners require a comprehensive range of support services that extend beyond the mere delivery of academic content. While academic support remains a core component, it is equally important to address the social, psychological, technical, and administrative needs of learners, who are often geographically dispersed, physically distant from the institution and peer groups, and drawn from diverse socio-economic, cultural, and age backgrounds. A holistic learner support system is therefore essential to facilitate learners throughout their academic journey and to ensure successful completion of programmes along with the award of appropriate certification.

The key dimensions of learner support include academic counselling and guidance, administrative assistance, access to diverse learning resources, timely and constructive feedback on assessments, technical support services, and opportunities for meaningful interaction with teachers, counsellors, and peers. These components are carefully designed to promote learner engagement, minimise feelings of isolation, strengthen learner retention, and enhance academic achievement within a flexible, inclusive, and learner-centric educational environment.

The learner support services provided by IGNOU have broadly been categorised into academic, administrative, and financial support services, as illustrated in Fig. 4.

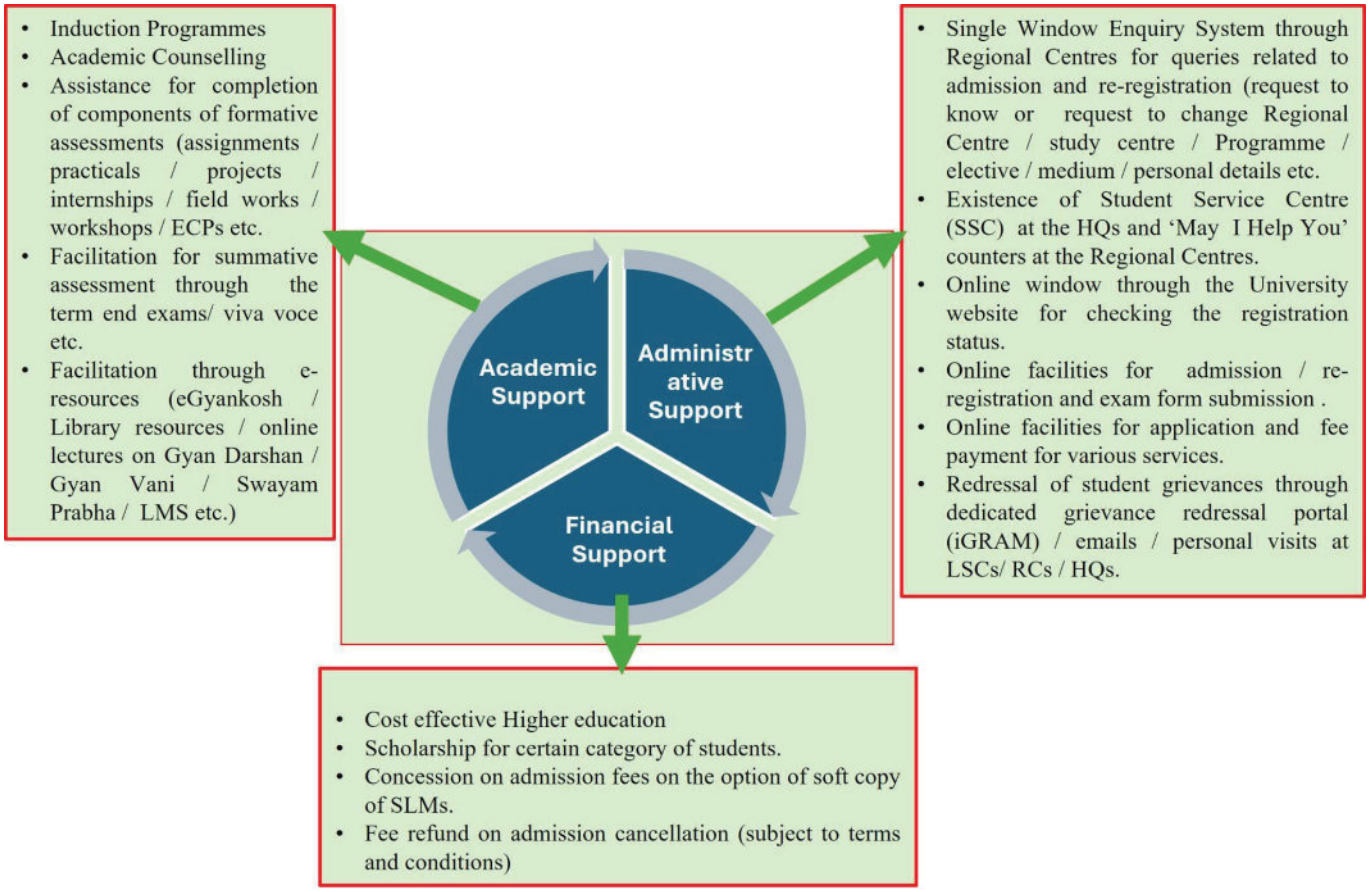

Fig. 4: Learner Support at IGNOU

2. IGNOU: ODDL Framework

The infrastructure and learner support mechanisms of IGNOU are strategically designed to extend educational access to geographically dispersed learners who may otherwise have limited or no access to conventional higher education institutions. Through its extensive network of Regional Centres, Learner Support Centres, Overseas Study Centres, digital platforms, and technology-enabled delivery systems, the University has created an inclusive educational ecosystem that supports flexible, affordable, and accessible learning opportunities for diverse learner groups across India and abroad

2.1 Three-tier System: Enabling Efficient Delivery and Coordination

The three-tier learner support model (Fig. 5) integrates both centralised and decentralised mechanisms to ensure comprehensive and effective support for learners across the country. This structure enables the University to maintain academic uniformity and quality standards while simultaneously addressing the diverse and localised needs of learners.

At the first tier, the University functions through a centralised system wherein authority, policy formulation, and decision-making are primarily concentrated at the Headquarters (HQ) at New Delhi. The Headquarters is responsible for overall academic and administrative governance, including curriculum design and development, policy formulation, programme coordination, quality assurance, learner support planning, and institutional management. This centralised framework ensures standardisation, consistency, and uniformity in programme delivery and academic processes across the University system.

The second tier comprises the Regional Centres (RCs), which serve as the intermediary link between the Headquarters and the learners. IGNOU has established Regional Centres throughout the country, which are organised into five regional zones, namely North, South, East, West, and North-East. These RCs function as regional hubs for academic coordination, learner support, and administrative activities. They oversee the functioning of Learner Support Centres within their jurisdictions and facilitate the effective implementation of University policies and learner support services. At present, the University has 57 Regional Centres across the country.

The third tier consists of Learner Support Centres (LSCs) and Overseas Study Centres (OSCs), which provide direct support to learners at the local level, as close to their place of residence as possible. These centres play a crucial role in facilitating learner engagement by offering academic counselling sessions, practical and laboratory support, workshops, library access, assignment-related guidance, and other learner support services. The LSCs ensure that learners receive personalised academic and administrative assistance in accordance with programme requirements as well as their individual learning needs and circumstances.

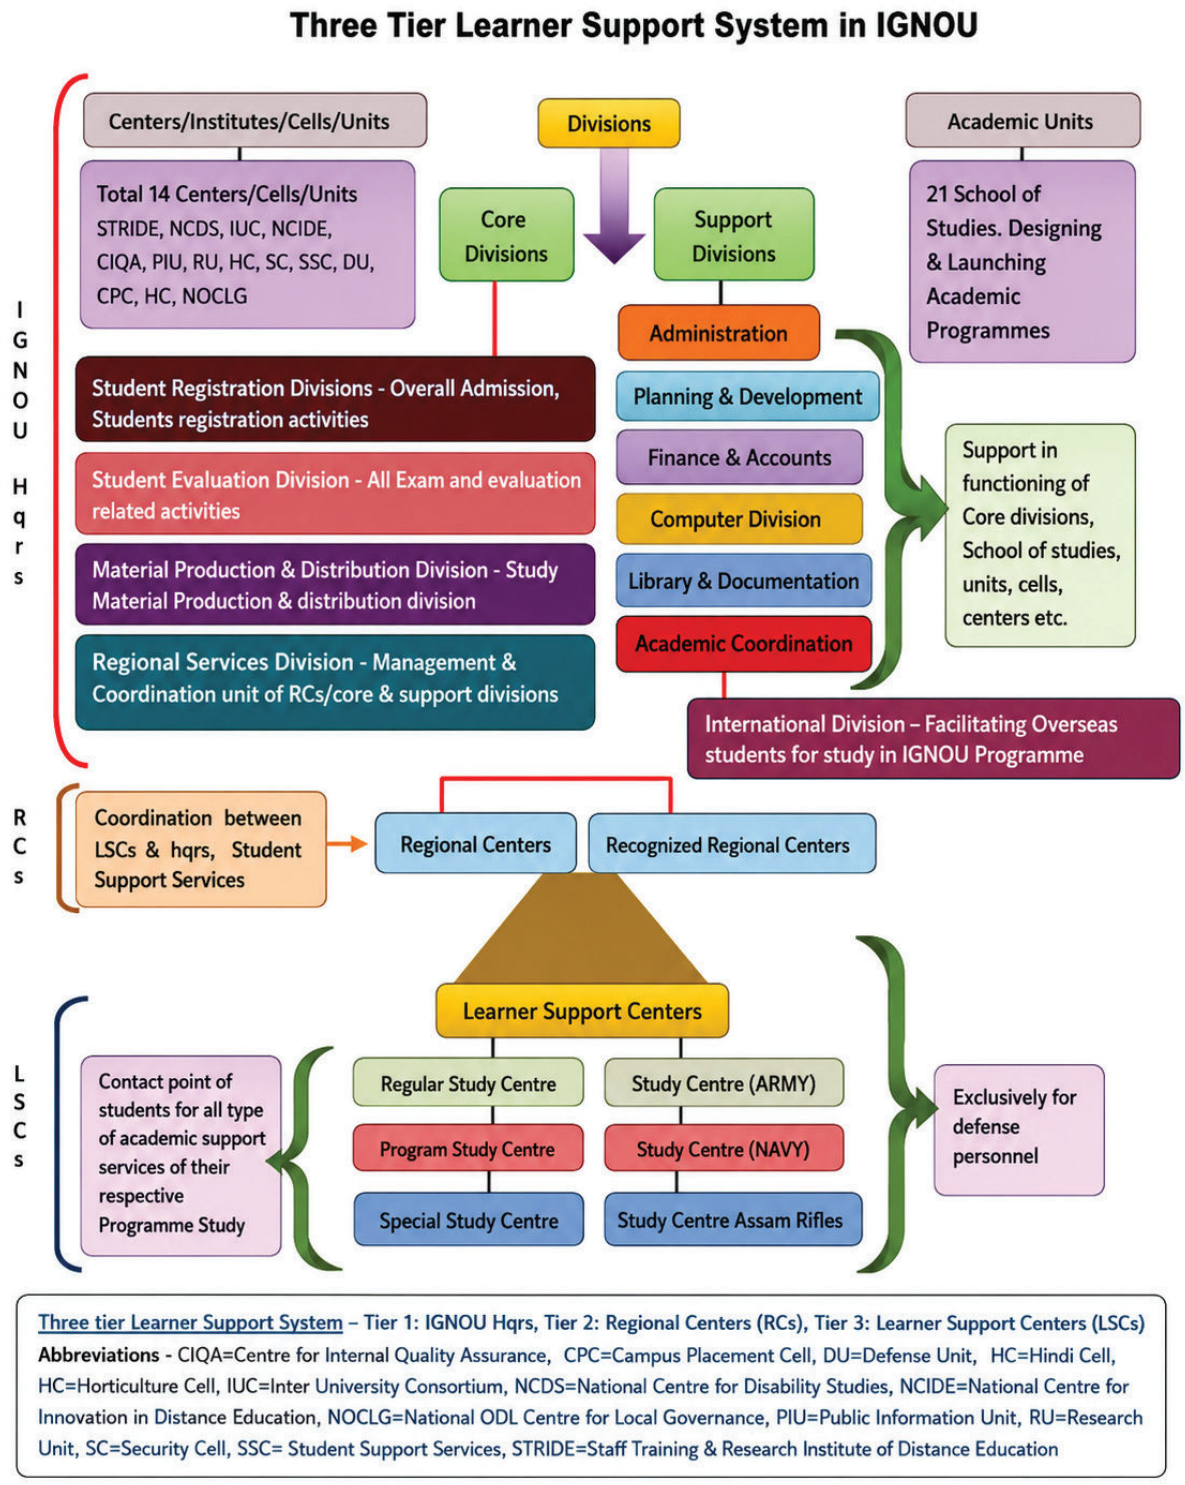

Fig. 5: Three-Tier Learner Support System

Functioning of Decentralised Model

The decentralised three-tier delivery system adopted by the University is specifically designed to make higher education accessible to learners across the country. Through its extensive network of RCs and LSCs, the University ensures that educational opportunities reach learners even in remote, rural, and geographically disadvantaged areas.

Within this framework, the central administration at the Headquarters is responsible for key academic and administrative functions, including the design and development of academic programmes, preparation of Self-Learning Materials (SLMs), conduct of Term-End Examinations (TEE), formulation of academic policies, and overall quality assurance. The Headquarters also ensures that all RCs maintain uniform academic standards and deliver education of comparable quality. This centralised mechanism helps preserve consistency in curriculum design, assessment processes, examinations, and evaluation practices, thereby providing learners with a standardised and equitable learning experience irrespective of their geographical location.

At the same time, learner support during programme delivery is primarily facilitated through the RCs and their associated LSCs. The RCs play an important role in managing learner registration and enrolment processes and providing personalised support services such as pre-admission and post-admission counselling, academic guidance, examination coordination, assignment-related assistance, and distribution of study materials. Through this decentralised support structure, instructional resources and learner services are made accessible to learners in remote, rural, and semi-urban areas where conventional educational infrastructure may be limited or unavailable.

2.2 Infrastructure - Physical and Digital

2.2.1 Physical Infrastructure

i. Nationwide Outreach

The Regional Services Division (RSD) of the University serves as the nodal division responsible for operationalising learner support services and managing the functioning of Regional Centres (RCs) and Learner Support Centres (LSCs) across the country. RSD plays a central role in coordinating, monitoring, and strengthening the decentralised learner support system of the University.

At present, RSD oversees a network of 69 Regional Centres, which includes 9 Regional Centres located in the North-East Region (NER), 12 Recognised Regional Centres (RRCs) established for the Army, Navy, and Assam Rifles, along with 48 Regional Centres functioning across different parts of India. In addition, about 85 Learner Support Centres operate under the Recognised Regional Centres (as on 30 June 2025), while the University has an extensive network of more than 2200 Learner Support Centres nationwide.

This widespread network of RCs and LSCs (Table 1) significantly enhances the outreach of IGNOU by extending access to quality and affordable higher education to learners belonging to rural, remote, socially disadvantaged, and physically challenged sections of society. The decentralised structure enables the University to provide flexible and inclusive educational opportunities to populations that have traditionally remained underserved by conventional higher education systems.

The details of the Recognised Regional Centres (RRCs) and Learner Support Centres (LSCs) are presented below:

2.2.2 Digital Infrastructure

i. GyanDarshan TV Channel

GyanDarshan, the 24-hour educational television channel of the University, has been operational since the year 2000. Being available on major Direct-to-Home (DTH) networks, the channel has the potential to reach learners across the country who have access to television facilities at home. In addition, the live sessions broadcast through GyanDarshan are simultaneously streamed on various online platforms, thereby extending accessibility to learners worldwide.

The channel disseminates high-quality educational video programmes designed and produced to support teaching-learning processes in the ODDL system. To enhance learner engagement and facilitate effective communication of academic content, a variety of presentation formats and programme styles are utilised which are given in Fig. 6.

Fig. 6: Different Styles of Presentation on GyanDarshan channel

Similarly, the GyanDarshan programmes cover the following areas:

- Curriculum based educational programmes
- Simulcast SWAYAMPRABHA channel's Live regional languages counselling sessions
- Promotional videos
- Awareness programmes
- Special Live coverages
- Learner support programmes
- Other educational programmes

ii. GyanVani* FM Radio

GyanVani, conceived in 2001, is a network of educational FM radio channels currently operating from three cities—Delhi, Madurai, and Chandigarh. GyanVani-Delhi broadcasts for 13 hours daily and its transmission is relayed by GyanVani-Madurai for 13 hours and by GyanVani-Chandigarh for 12 hours each day.

Each GyanVani station has an approximate transmission range of 60 kilometres, enabling coverage of the entire city or town along with adjoining rural areas. In addition to FM broadcasting, GyanVani-Delhi is also accessible through the online platform GyanDhara, thereby extending its reach to learners with internet connectivity across different regions.

The content and presentation style of GyanVani are largely localised in nature, with programmes delivered in English, Hindi, or the respective regional language to cater to the needs of diverse learner groups. The channel utilises a variety of presentation formats and programme styles to make learning more engaging, interactive, and learner-friendly, such as:

- Talk/Lecture based
- Panel discussions
- Interactive phone in/chat-based programmes
- Radio Feature
- Educational news Magazine
- Music
- Dramas and plays based

GyanVani programmes cover the following areas:

- Curriculum based educational programme of IGNOU
- Primary and Secondary Education
- Adult Education
- Technical and vocational education
- Promotional programmes
- Learner Support programmes
- Special Live coverages
- Other educational programmes

iii. GyanDhara

GyanDhara is the internet-based audio counselling service of the University, developed to provide learners with direct access to expert academic discussions and counselling support irrespective of their geographical location.

It functions as a live web-radio platform through which IGNOU faculty members and subject experts conduct interactive audio counselling sessions on specific academic themes and topics.

The platform enables learners to listen to sessions in real time and actively participate through telephone, email, or chat-based interaction, thereby promoting greater learner engagement and academic support.

GyanDhara complements the University's other technology-enabled educational initiatives, including GyanVani and GyanDarshan, collectively strengthening the multimedia learner support system of the University (Fig.7).

Fig. 7: IGNOU EMPC-Education Broadcast

2.3 Online Teaching-Learning Tools and Platforms

Over the past five years, the University has considerably strengthened its online teaching-learning ecosystem by effectively leveraging a wide range of digital platforms to cater to its large and diverse learner population. One of the major initiatives in this direction is SWAYAM (Study Webs of Active-Learning for Young Aspiring Minds), for which IGNOU functions as one of the National Coordinators. Through this platform, the University offers certificate- and diploma-level courses, including skill-based programmes and courses related to lifelong learning.

The Centre for Online Education (COE) plays a significant role in hosting and facilitating the development of Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs) on the SWAYAM platform. Since July 2020, IGNOU has been offering a variety of online courses through SWAYAM, and by January 2025, the University had offered 41 different online programmes through the platform.

eGyanKosh, the University's digital repository, continues to serve as a cornerstone of IGNOU's open and distance learning strategy. The repository hosts nearly 45,000 learning resources, including Self-Learning Materials (SLMs), audio programmes, and video-based educational content. During the COVID-19 lockdown in 2020, eGyanKosh recorded an average of over 15,000 visits per day, reflecting its critical role in supporting uninterrupted learning during the pandemic period.

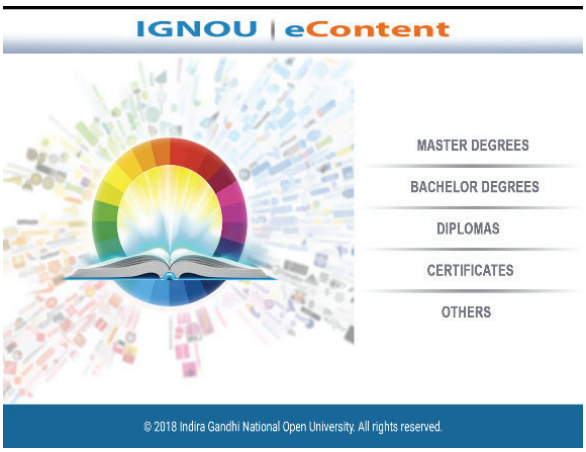

Fig. 8: IGNOU eContent Apps

In addition, the IGNOU e-Content Mobile App (Fig. 8) complements eGyanKosh by providing learners with seamless mobile access to digital learning materials along with offline accessibility features. The application has been downloaded by more than one million users through Google Play, making it one of the University's important tools for promoting flexible, accessible, and inclusive education.

QR (Quick Response) codes have been integrated into the Self-Learning Materials (SLMs), programme guides, assignments, and promotional materials of Indira Gandhi National Open University to enhance accessibility, interactivity, and learner engagement. By scanning these QR codes through mobile devices, learners can instantly access supplementary digital resources such as video lectures, audio content, eGyanKosh materials, and interactive learning modules, thereby enriching the overall learning experience.

The University's Learning Management System (LMS) represents another important advancement in digital programme delivery. By 2024–25, IGNOU had introduced a number of online programmes. The online programmes are designed following the four-quadrant approach, which includes structured e-content modules, interactive discussion forums, assignments, self-assessment activities, and online quizzes to facilitate comprehensive and learner-centric engagement.

The Web Enabled Academic Support (WEAS) Portal, launched in 2020, serves as a centralised digital platform providing access to course materials, video lectures, quizzes, discussion forums, and schedules for online academic counselling sessions. Initially introduced for selected programmes, the portal was subsequently expanded to cover a wider range of courses, thereby facilitating virtual interaction and academic engagement between learners and educators.

In addition, IGNOU's official YouTube channel has emerged as a significant online teaching-learning platform supporting the dissemination of educational content. At present, the channel hosts 737 video lectures and educational programmes. With more than 78,061 subscribers and over 2,274,879 learner views and interactions, the platform plays an important role in expanding the reach and accessibility of the University's academic resources. The list of online teaching and learning platforms utilised by Regional Centres is provided in Appendix 5.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, platforms such as Google Meet, Microsoft Teams, Zoom, and Webex were extensively utilised for conducting online academic counselling sessions and learner support activities. The use of these technology-enabled platforms reflected IGNOU's commitment to ensuring continuity in teaching-learning processes and learner support services during challenging circumstances.

2.4 Digital Platforms for Learner Support

IGNOU Main Website and Regional Centre Websites:

The official website of Indira Gandhi National Open University serves as an important digital platform for providing academic, administrative, and learner support services. Through its various web links and integrated online services, the website offers learners easy access to essential information and resources, including:

- Availability of the e-Prospectus and detailed programme-related information through the webpages of various Schools of Studies;
- Access to the Web Enabled Academic Support (WEAS) portal for video-based academic resources and programme-related learning support;
- Online payment gateways for submission of fees related to admissions, examinations, and other University services;
- Facilities for tracking the dispatch and delivery status of Self-Learning Materials (SLMs) sent through postal services; and
- Access to the learner dashboard, through which learners can monitor their registration status, programme details, grade card status, assignment submission records, examination-related information, and other academic progress indicators.

The websites of the Regional Centres (RCs) also play a significant role in decentralised learner support by providing region-specific academic and administrative information. These websites regularly host details related to counselling schedules of Learner Support Centres (LSCs) functioning under their respective jurisdictions, schedules of practical sessions, workshops, project viva-voce examinations, and other learner support activities in accordance with the academic calendar.

In addition, IGNOU learners are provided access to a wide range of online services through dedicated web portals and digital platforms (Table 3), thereby strengthening the University's technology-enabled learner support system.

IGNOU Samarth Portal:

The University extensively utilises the Samarth e-Gov Suite as part of the Government of India's initiative to digitise the functioning of higher education institutions. Through the Samarth e-Gov Suite, the University manages a range of academic and administrative services, including learner admission processes, examination form submission, employee services, and other institutional operations, thereby enhancing efficiency, transparency, and digital governance.

IGNOU e-Content Mobile App:

The IGNOU e-Content Mobile App serves as a comprehensive digital platform that enables learners to access digitised course materials through handheld devices such as smartphones and tablets. The application provides convenient and flexible access to academic resources anytime and anywhere, thereby supporting self-paced learning. The app has recorded approximately 2.9 million installations, reflecting its extensive usage and significance within the University's digital learning ecosystem.

Channel-Based Counselling (CBC):

The University offers Channel-Based Counselling (CBC) for various academic programmes through SWAYAMPRABHA channels in multiple regional languages. This initiative was implemented across 20 Regional Centres utilising seven SWAYAM PRABHA channels to deliver undergraduate-level courses in languages such as Assamese, Bengali, English, Gujarati, Hindi, Kannada, Malayalam, Marathi, Odia, Punjabi, Tamil, Telugu, Urdu, Mizo, and Manipuri. The CBC facility has also been extended to the MBA programme through Regional Centres such as Delhi-1, Bhubaneswar, and Patna regions thereby strengthening multilingual and inclusive learner support.

Telecast and Broadcast Initiatives of EMPC:

The telecast and broadcast initiatives undertaken by the Electronic Media Production Centre (EMPC) significantly contribute to the University's digital and multimedia-based learner support system. These initiatives include the production and dissemination of educational television and radio programmes, live counselling sessions, and interactive broadcasts aimed at enhancing learner engagement and accessibility.

iGRAM:

iGRAM (IGNOU Grievance Redressal and Management) is an online grievance redressal portal launched by IGNOU to facilitate the timely resolution of learner queries and grievances. The portal has been developed to ensure transparency, accountability, and efficiency in addressing issues related to admissions, examinations, study materials, learner support services, and other academic or administrative concerns.

3. Learner Support Services

Learner support services refer to the range of services provided by a Higher Education Institution to facilitate and enhance the teaching-learning experiences of learners pursuing programmes through the ODDL, enabling them to achieve the prescribed learning outcomes of their respective programmes of study, as defined under the UGC (Open and Distance Learning Programmes and Online Programmes) Regulations, 2020.

Effective learner support constitutes a crucial component of a successful distance and online learning system. Unlike conventional classroom-based education, learners in the ODL system often have limited face-to-face interaction with teachers and peers and therefore rely significantly on institutional support mechanisms for academic guidance, motivation, engagement, and problem resolution throughout their learning journey.

These learner support systems are designed to provide comprehensive academic, administrative, technical, and counselling support to learners. They play a vital role in maintaining the quality of education, ensuring smooth academic progression, minimising learner isolation, and fostering a sense of belonging and academic community among learners.

3.1 Role of Learner Support Centres

Learner Support Centres (LSCs) of the University play a vital role in facilitating the effective delivery of Open and Distance Learning (ODL) programmes by providing academic, administrative, and learner support services at the local level. These centres act as the primary point of interaction between the University and the learners, thereby strengthening the learner support system of IGNOU.

The major functions of Learner Support Centres are as follows:

- Academic Support: LSCs organise academic counselling sessions, workshops, practical sessions, and interactive discussions to support learners in understanding course content and clarifying academic doubts.
- Assignment Submission and Evaluation: Learners submit their assignments at the designated LSCs, where they are evaluated by Academic Counsellors and feedback is provided to support continuous learning and improvement.
- Examination Centres: Many LSCs also function as centres for conducting Term-End Examinations (TEE) and other programme-related examinations of the University.
- Career Guidance and Academic Counselling: The centres provide guidance related to career opportunities, skill development, and pathways for higher education and professional advancement.
- Administrative Assistance: LSCs assist learners in various administrative processes, including admission-related support, re-registration, examination form submission, assignment-related queries, and other learner services.

Technology-Enabled Support:

Several LSCs facilitate access to digital learning resources and technology-enabled learner support services, including online counselling sessions, digital content, video lectures, and access to IGNOU's online learning platforms and e-resources.

3.2 Pre-Admission Activities

The pre-admission phase plays a significant role in enabling prospective learners to make informed academic choices and ensuring their eligibility for admission into a particular programme. Effective pre-admission support services help learners understand programme requirements, eligibility criteria, fee structures, duration, career prospects, and available learner support mechanisms before enrolment.

In this regard, Indira Gandhi National Open University provides a range of pre-admission support activities through its Headquarters, Regional Centres, Learner Support Centres, and digital platforms to facilitate informed decision-making and smooth admission processes for prospective learners. The details of some of the major pre-admission activities are presented in Table 4.

- Pre-admission support provided by Indira Gandhi National Open University during the pre-admission phase constitutes an important component of the University's learner-centric support system. This coordinated mechanism ensures that prospective learners receive accurate, timely, and comprehensive information regarding academic programmes, eligibility criteria, admission procedures, learner support services, and career opportunities.

- The collaborative functioning of the Headquarters, Regional Centres, and Learner Support Centres facilitates effective dissemination of information and smooth implementation of admission-related processes across the country. The coordination mechanism among these institutional levels is illustrated through the flow diagram provided below.
- The flow diagram (Fig. 10) depicts the operational synergy among IGNOU Headquarters, RCs and LSCs, highlighting the channels of communication, flow of decision-making, and mechanisms for academic and administrative service delivery within the University's decentralised learner support system.

3.3 Admission & Learners' Life Cycle

The post-admission life cycle of learners in Indira Gandhi National Open University encompasses a series of academic and administrative processes designed to support learners throughout their educational journey, from admission to the award of certification. These processes include learner registration, access to study materials, academic counselling, assignment submission, practical sessions, examinations, evaluation, declaration of results, and award of degrees, diplomas, or certificates.

The various academic and administrative milestones involved in the post-admission learner journey at IGNOU are illustrated in the figure below (Fig. 11):

3.4 Induction Meeting

Induction Meetings (IMs) constitute the first formal interaction of newly admitted learners with Indira Gandhi National Open University and play an important role in familiarising them with the University's academic environment, learner support systems, and institutional processes. These meetings also facilitate interaction among learners, Academic Counsellors, and functionaries of Learner Support Centres (LSCs), thereby helping in the development of peer networks and learner engagement.

Induction Meetings serve as an important platform for newly enrolled learners to receive comprehensive information regarding their academic journey from admission to programme completion. These sessions provide guidance on various academic and administrative processes, including admission procedures, assignment submission, examination-related activities, re-registration, and the minimum and maximum duration prescribed for programme completion. Accordingly, it is essential that Induction Meetings are conducted at every Learner Support Centre for each admission cycle, and learners are strongly encouraged to attend these sessions.

Induction Meetings help newly admitted learners gain an understanding of IGNOU's educational framework, available academic resources, and learner support services, thereby ensuring a smooth transition into their respective academic programmes. Traditionally organised at Learner Support Centres, these sessions have also been conducted through virtual mode since the COVID-19 pandemic to improve accessibility and participation of learners across different geographical regions.

These meetings provide essential orientation regarding curriculum structure, learning resources, learner responsibilities, and administrative procedures, thereby contributing to effective learner engagement and successful academic progression. Figure 12 illustrates the number of Induction Meetings organised during the past five years.

3.5 Counselling and Guidance Services

In the absence of regular face-to-face interaction with teachers, learners in the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system may sometimes experience difficulties in understanding certain concepts and may also develop a sense of isolation during their academic journey. To address these challenges, the University provides comprehensive academic counselling and learner support services through both online and offline modes at RCs and LSCs. These counselling sessions provide learners with opportunities to seek clarification of doubts, receive academic guidance, and interact with experienced academic counsellors who are subject experts.

In addition to counselling sessions, the RCs regularly organise workshops, seminars, orientation programmes, and interactive academic activities on a wide range of themes, including examination preparation strategies, skill development, and soft skills enhancement. Such activities constitute an important component of the learner support system in distance education, as they help reduce feelings of isolation among learners while promoting academic interaction, peer learning, motivation, and engagement with teachers and fellow learners.

3.5.1 Academic Counselling

Academic counselling plays a significant role in bridging the gap between learners and faculty members by providing academic guidance, motivation, and structured learner support within the ODDL system. It serves as an important mechanism for facilitating learner engagement and supporting successful academic progression.

Academic counselling:

- Constitutes a crucial human interface and support mechanism for distance learners;
- Assists learners in resolving academic queries, clarifying doubts, and overcoming conceptual difficulties, thereby enabling them to progress smoothly and successfully complete their chosen programmes of study; and
- Differs from conventional tutoring in that it is learner-centric and need-based, focusing on the individual learner rather than being confined solely to subject-specific instruction.

Academic counselling sessions are organised for both theory and practical courses. The number of counselling sessions scheduled for a course is determined in accordance with the credit weightage of the course. IGNOU follows a credit-based system for all its academic programmes and courses, which is designed to structure learner workload in a systematic and effective manner. Under this system, one credit is equivalent to 30 hours of learner study.

In IGNOU's credit system, the prescribed 30 hours of study per credit include a variety of academic and learning activities, such as:

- Self-study: Reading course materials, reference books, and study guides.
- Assignments: Completing hand written assignments, quizzes, and self-assessment tasks.
- Projects & Practical Work: Engaging in fieldwork, lab experiments, case studies, and research projects.
- Tutorials & Counselling Sessions: Attending scheduled interactions with faculty or mentors.
- Discussion Forums: Participating in online or face-to-face academic discussions.
- Examinations & Preparation: Studying for and appearing in term-end exams or evaluations.

The total number of credits prescribed for a programme determines the overall study duration, learner workload, and academic effort required for successful completion of the programme. The credit-based framework adopted by IGNOU enables learners to plan and manage their studies in a flexible and systematic manner in accordance with their individual pace and learning needs.

Academic counselling sessions constitute a vital component of the learner support system, as they help bridge the gap between learners and the institution by facilitating academic interaction, conceptual understanding, guidance, and learner engagement. These sessions contribute significantly towards creating a more interactive, supportive, and effective learning experience for learners enrolled in the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system.

During the past five years, a large number of academic counselling sessions have been organised through the University's network of LSCs, are presented in Fig. 13.

3.5.2 Modes of Academic Counselling

IGNOU provides academic counselling through multiple modes in order to ensure effective learner support within the ODDL system. These counselling mechanisms are designed to cater to the diverse needs of learners by facilitating academic interaction, conceptual clarity, guidance, and continuous learner engagement through both conventional and technology-enabled platforms.

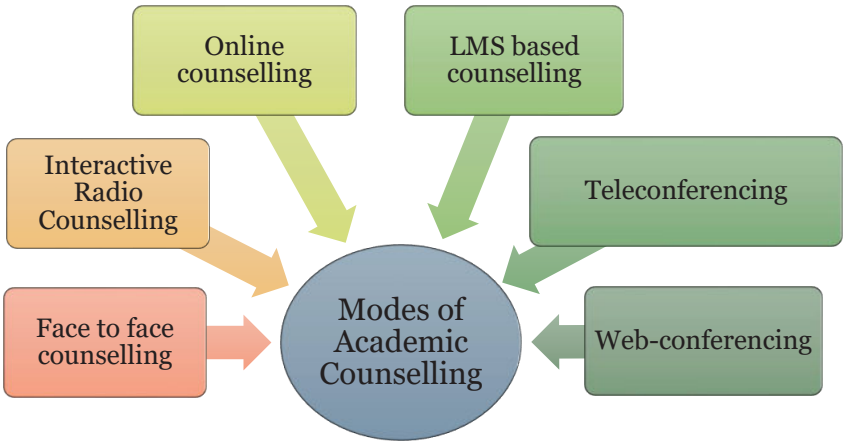

Fig. 14: Modes employed to provide academic Counselling services to learners

The various modes through which academic counselling is offered by IGNOU are illustrated in Fig. 14.

3.6 Print & Digital Content - Enhanced Academic Support

3.6.1 Self-Learning Materials (SLMs)

The rapid expansion of technology has transformed several sectors, and education is no exception. In this evolving educational landscape, Self-Learning Materials (SLMs) have emerged as an effective and learner-centric tool, offering a modern, flexible, and easily accessible learning experience for both learners and educators.

SLMs are developed in both print and digital formats to support independent and self-paced learning. These materials are specifically designed to provide flexibility, accessibility, and academic support to learners irrespective of their geographical location or personal circumstances.

The SLMs are characteristically self-explanatory, self-contained, self-directed, and learner-friendly in nature. They are structured in a manner that encourages active learner participation, self-assessment, critical understanding, and sustained learner motivation, thereby promoting autonomy and effectiveness in the learning process.

Key features of effective SLMs are given below:

- Self-contained: It should deliver all necessary information and resources for independent learning.
- Self-directed: It must guide learners through the learning process with clear objectives, activities, and resources.
- Self-evaluating: It should offer opportunities for learners to assess their progress and receive feedback.
- Self-explanatory: It should be printed in clear, concise language, avoiding jargon and requiring minimal external help.

SLMs can be effectively disseminated in both print and digital formats, thereby accommodating diverse learning styles, preferences, and accessibility needs of learners. Print-based SLMs provide learners with a tangible and structured learning experience that supports reading, note-making, and self-paced study in traditional formats.

At the same time, digital learning resources have significantly enhanced the flexibility and accessibility of education within the ODDL system. Digital formats such as online courses offered through MOOCs, interactive learning modules, simulations, and e-books available through eGyanKosh provide learners with dynamic, technology-enabled, and easily accessible learning experiences. These digital resources enable learners to access educational content anytime and anywhere, thereby strengthening flexible and learner-centric education.

3.6.2 Digital SLM Repositories eGyanKosh serves as a National Digital Repository developed by IGNOU for the systematic storage, indexing, preservation, distribution, and sharing of digital learning resources created by the University. The platform plays a significant role in supporting flexible and technology-enabled learning within the ODDL system.

Through eGyanKosh, learners are able to access digitised SLMs for various academic programmes offered by IGNOU, along with course contents developed for SWAYAM courses. In addition, the repository provides access to a wide range of educational resources, including video lectures, University publications, journals, and links to SWAYAMPRABHA channels.

The digital contents available on eGyanKosh are regularly updated with newly developed and revised course materials, thereby ensuring that learners have access to current, relevant, and high-quality academic resources.

3.6.3 IGNOU YouTube Channel

The Electronic Media Production Centre (EMPC) of the University launched its official YouTube channel on 20 July 2021 as part of the University's ongoing efforts to strengthen digital and technology-enabled learner support services. The channel functions as an online repository platform through which learners across the globe can conveniently access educational video content anytime and from any location.

The platform provides learners with flexible access to recorded lectures, academic discussions, counselling sessions, educational programmes, and other multimedia learning resources developed by the University. By enabling on-demand access to educational content, the YouTube channel supports self-paced learning and enhances the reach and accessibility of IGNOU's academic resources to a wider learner community.

A summary of the YouTube analytics and learner engagement statistics is presented in Fig. 15.

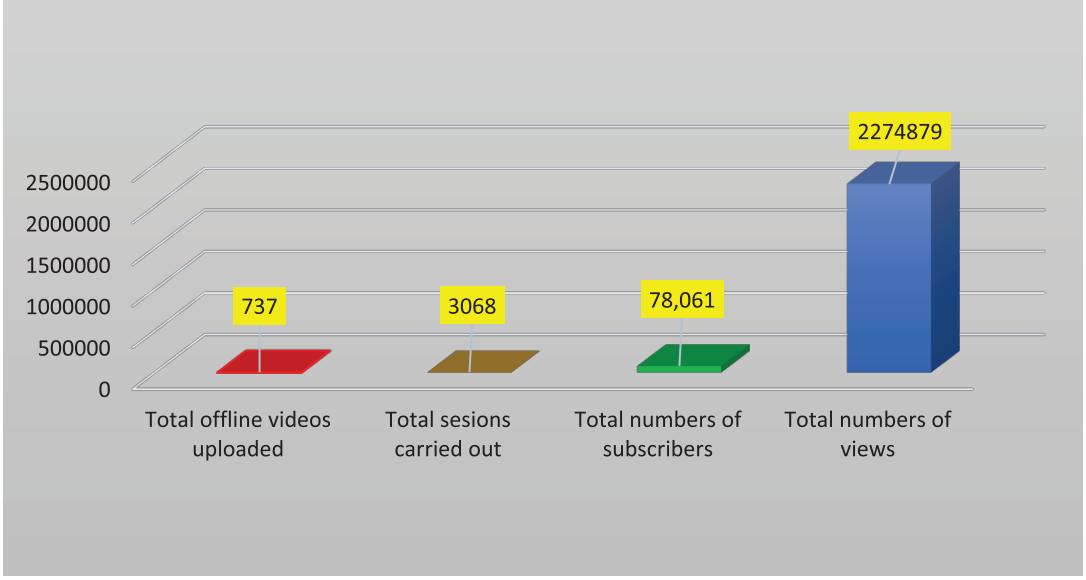

Fig. 15: Analytics of YouTube Channel

Live sessions, including interactive academic counselling sessions, are also streamed through the official YouTube platform of Indira Gandhi National Open University to facilitate wider learner participation and accessibility. These sessions provide learners with opportunities for real-time interaction with faculty members, Academic Counsellors, and subject experts, enabling clarification of doubts, academic guidance, and enhanced learner engagement.

The live-streaming facility has significantly strengthened the University's technology-enabled learner support system by allowing learners from different geographical regions to participate in counselling sessions remotely and conveniently. The details of these initiatives are highlighted below (Fig. 16), while a summary of the live counselling sessions conducted is presented in Table 5.

Fig. 16: Live Counselling sessions

Table 5: Summary of Live Sessions

Period	Sessions in Hours	No. of Live Sessions
From 20th July 2021 to 30th April, 2025	1,534 hours	3068 Sessions (@ each session of half an hour)

3.6.4 Audio Repository

The University initiated an online audio repository in the year 2022 as part of its efforts to strengthen technology-enabled learner support services. The platform provides learners with convenient access to a rich collection of recorded educational audio resources, thereby supporting flexible and self-paced learning.

The repository hosts more than 800 recorded Interactive Radio Counselling (IRC) programmes along with other educational audio programmes organised under various Schools of Studies of the University. These audio resources enable learners to revisit academic discussions, counselling sessions, and subject-specific content at their convenience, thereby enhancing accessibility and continuity in the teaching-learning process.

3.6.5 Social Media

Social media has emerged as a powerful medium for enhancing learner engagement and expanding access to academic content within the contemporary educational environment. It offers multiple opportunities for interaction, collaboration, and dissemination of educational resources, thereby complementing formal teaching-learning processes in the ODDL system. Some of the key benefits of social media in academic engagement are as follows:

- Enhanced Communication: Social media platforms such as X, LinkedIn, and Facebook facilitate communication among learners, educators, and academic institutions by enabling discussions on academic topics, sharing of research outputs, and meaningful educational interactions.
- Collaborative Learning: Social media platforms encourage collaborative and participatory learning through group discussions, peer-to-peer interaction, virtual study groups, and academic communities, thereby making learning more interactive, engaging, and accessible.
- Access to Educational Resources: Educational institutions and educators widely disseminate lectures, academic videos, articles, research papers, and other learning materials through platforms such as YouTube and Instagram, thereby increasing the accessibility and reach of educational content to diverse learner groups.

At Headquarters

Various social media platforms are actively utilised by the University to enhance learner engagement, disseminate academic information, provide access to educational resources, and facilitate the streaming of interactive counselling sessions and academic activities. These platforms also support wider outreach and real-time communication with learners across different geographical regions.

Platforms such as YouTube, Facebook, Instagram, and X are widely used for sharing video lectures, announcements, live counselling sessions, academic updates, learner support information, and other educational content.

Some of the important social media platform links operated from the Headquarters are listed below:

Facebook Live Academic Sessions

In addition to the official social media platforms of the University, a dedicated Facebook page was created by the Electronic Media Production Centre (EMPC) on 28 March 2023 for the live streaming of teleconferencing sessions.

Through this platform, live teleconferencing and interactive counselling sessions are regularly streamed from 3:00 PM to 5:00 PM on all working days, thereby enabling learners to participate remotely and access academic guidance and expert interaction in real time. This initiative has further strengthened the University's technology-enabled learner support system by enhancing accessibility and learner engagement across diverse geographical locations.

Facebook Live sessions on Learner Support "Hello IGNOU"

During the COVID-19 lockdown in 2020, IGNOU, through its Regional Services Division (RSD), initiated and coordinated Facebook Live sessions titled "Hello IGNOU" to maintain continuous interaction and engagement with learners and the wider public (Fig. 17).

These live sessions were organised through the University's official Facebook page, where subject experts and University officials interacted directly with learners and addressed their academic and administrative queries in real time. The initiative played an important role in ensuring continuity of learner support services and strengthening communication during the pandemic period.

At IGNOU Regional Centres

Through these platforms, RCs disseminate important notifications, conduct virtual academic counselling sessions, address learner grievances and queries, organise webinars and interactive sessions, and provide timely academic and administrative guidance. The use of social media has enabled RCs to expand their outreach and maintain active engagement with learners across geographically dispersed regions.

The RCs operate their own digital communication channels, including YouTube channels, Facebook pages, and X handles. In addition, many RCs also interact with learners through Instagram for sharing updates and academic information.

Further, digital communication platforms such as WhatsApp and Telegram are being extensively used by Regional Centres for sending notices, sharing academic schedules, disseminating important information, and facilitating various learner support services. These initiatives have significantly contributed to improving communication, accessibility, and responsiveness within the learner support system of the University.

- WhatsApp and Telegram Groups: Learners of IGNOU are encouraged to join dedicated WhatsApp and Telegram groups to receive timely updates related to assignments, examinations, counselling sessions, study materials, and other academic activities. These platforms also promote peer interaction, collaborative learning, mentoring, and academic discussions among learners.
- Official Website and Learner Portal: The RCs of IGNOU provide online learner support through their official websites and learner portals, enabling learners to access study materials, obtain academic information, submit assignments, and monitor their academic progress and programme-related activities.
- Live Webinars and Online Discussions: IGNOU RCs regularly organise live webinars, online counselling sessions, and interactive academic discussions through platforms such as YouTube and Facebook. These sessions provide learners with opportunities to interact with faculty members, seek clarification of doubts, and actively engage in the teaching-learning process.
- Monetised YouTube Channel: IGNOU RC Varanasi has developed a digital repository of recorded academic counselling sessions for learners enrolled in various IGNOU programmes. The Regional Centre's YouTube channel has also been successfully monetised, reflecting its extensive learner engagement and outreach. The analytics and performance details of the YouTube channel of IGNOU RC Varanasi are presented in Fig. 20.

3.7 Assessment and Evaluation

The University has continuously strengthened and refined its assessment and feedback mechanisms to effectively address the needs of its diverse learner community. During the period from July 2020 to June 2025, the University implemented several initiatives and strategies aimed at enhancing the efficiency, transparency, and effectiveness of learner assessment and feedback processes, while ensuring academic rigour, learner engagement, and overall learner satisfaction.

3.7.1 Continuous Assessment through Tutor-Marked Assignments

Tutor-Marked Assignments (TMAs) have consistently remained a fundamental component of the continuous assessment system of IGNOU. These assignments are designed to evaluate learners' understanding, analytical abilities, and application of course content throughout the academic term. In most programmes, TMAs generally carry a weightage of 30 per cent in the overall course evaluation framework.

During the COVID-19 pandemic, IGNOU introduced and facilitated the online submission of assignments to ensure continuity in the teaching-learning and assessment processes. This transition enabled uninterrupted learner assessment despite restrictions on physical movement and institutional access. At the same time, the initiative also contributed towards strengthening digital engagement and promoting digital literacy among learners within the ODDL system.

Online Submission and Tracking of Assignments

To enhance accessibility, efficiency, and transparency in the evaluation process, IGNOU has implemented online systems for assignment submission and result tracking. Through these digital platforms, learners are able to submit their assignments electronically and monitor the status of their submissions through the Assignment Submission Status portal, thereby ensuring greater convenience and timely access to information.

During the period from 2020 to 2024, the University recorded a total learner enrolment of 24,38,060. Out of this, a total of 11,97,220 assignments were submitted by learners during the reporting period. The year-wise details of assignment submissions are presented in Table 6.

Table 6: Total number fresh Bachelor and Master Degree level learners submitted assignments during 2020-2024

Year	Number of learners admitted	Number of assignments submitted
2020-21	588441	353768
2021-22	580632	246040
2022-23	613796	292914
2023-24	655191	304498

3.7.2 Term-End Examinations and Project Evaluations

In University, Term-End Examinations (TEEs) are conducted twice every year, during the June and December cycles, as part of the University's summative assessment system. These examinations are designed to evaluate learners' comprehensive understanding of course content and the extent to which the prescribed learning outcomes have been achieved.

During the last five years, a total of 24,38,060 learners were admitted to various academic programmes offered by IGNOU. The year-wise distribution of learner enrolment during this period is presented in Table 7.

Table 7: Total number of fresh Bachelor and Master Degree level learners enrolled for TEE during 2020-2024

Year	Number of Fresh learners admitted	Number of learners (only newly enrolled) registered for term-end examinations
2020-21	588441	155512
2021-22	580632	356707
2022-23	613796	427670
2023-24	655191	459770

Source: IGNOU Data

In addition to Term-End Examinations (TEEs), certain academic programmes offered by the University require learners to complete projects, practical components, internships, fieldwork, or other experiential learning activities. These components are evaluated on the basis of predefined academic criteria and assessment guidelines and constitute an important part of the overall evaluation process.

Such practical and field-based assessments play a significant role in developing learners' applied knowledge, professional competencies, and practical skills, while also contributing substantially to the final grade and successful completion of the programme.

3.8 Declaration of Result

For Term-End Examinations (TEE), the University generally declares results in a phased manner, beginning with the early declaration of evaluated results. Typically, the first phase of results is announced approximately 45 days after the completion of examinations, and subsequent updates are released progressively as the evaluation process continues.

The University also provides learners with the facility for re-evaluation of answer scripts. Learners may apply online for re-evaluation within 40 days from the date of declaration of results by paying the prescribed fee of ₹750 per course.

Process of Declaration of Result in IGNOU

i. Conduct of Exams IGNOU holds TEE twice a year - in June and December, across various centres.

ii. Evaluation Phase

- Answer scripts are dispatched to evaluation centres.
- Evaluation is done by subject experts under strict guidelines.
- Practical and project components are assessed separately.

iii. Phased Result Declaration

- Results are released in phases, typically starting 45–60 days after the last exam date.
- Early results (for students who applied for early declaration) are released first.
- Remaining results are uploaded progressively on the IGNOU Results Portal.

iv. Grade Card Update

- Once all components (theory, practical, assignments) are evaluated, the Grade Card is updated.
- Students can view their consolidated performance online.

3.9 Convocation and Award of Degrees, Diplomas and Certificates

Furthermore, IGNOU provides learners with online access to grade cards and examination results, enabling them to regularly monitor and track their academic progress in a transparent and convenient manner. This technology-enabled approach has significantly enhanced the efficiency, accessibility, and transparency of the University's assessment and evaluation processes.

The number of learners who successfully completed their academic programmes during the reporting period is presented in Table 8.

4. Learner Support through Multimedia Platforms

4.1 Teleconferencing

Live Teleconferencing (TC) sessions are organised on every working day from 3:00 PM to 5:00 PM to provide direct televised academic counselling to learners by faculty members from the Schools of Studies of Indira Gandhi National Open University and other subject experts. These sessions enable learners, irrespective of their geographical location, to access academic guidance and counselling support in real time.

The teleconferencing sessions provide learners with opportunities to directly interact with the resource persons present in the studio and seek clarification regarding academic content, programme-related issues, and other queries associated with their courses of study. In addition to academic counselling, learner support services are also facilitated through these sessions by various operational divisions and centres of the University, including the Regional Services Division (RSD) and the Student Services Centre (SSC).

The details of the teleconferencing sessions conducted during 2020-2025 are presented in Table 9.

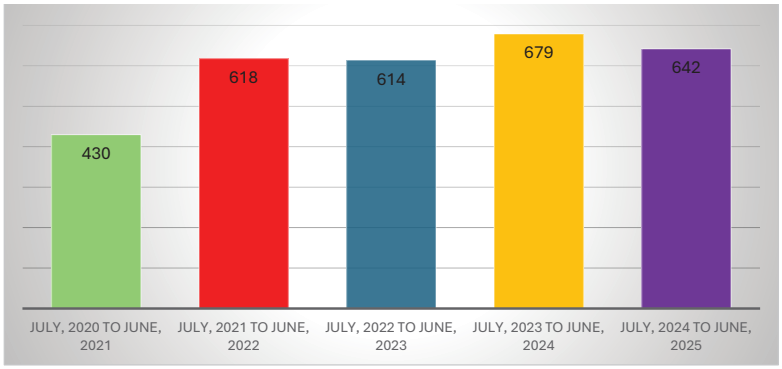

Fig. 21: Interactive live TC sessions conducted during five years

Officials from the Headquarters (HQ) and Regional Centres (RCs) of Indira Gandhi National Open University participate as resource persons during these live interactive teleconferencing (TC) sessions and engage directly with learners through telephone-based interaction. These sessions provide learners with opportunities to seek clarification on academic, administrative, and learner support-related matters in real time.

In addition, a special dedicated session on learner support services is regularly broadcast on Gyan Darshan every Tuesday from 3:00 PM to 4:00 PM. These sessions focus specifically on addressing learner queries and disseminating important information related to admissions, examinations, assignments, counselling services, and other learner support mechanisms of the University.

4.2 Live Interactive Radio Counselling

Gyan Vani at the Headquarters of Indira Gandhi National Open University conducts live Interactive Radio Counselling (IRC) sessions to facilitate direct interaction between learners and faculty members, Academic Counsellors, and learner support staff of the University.

These live sessions enable learners to seek academic guidance, clarify doubts, and obtain information related to learner support services through telephone calls and chat-based interaction. The Interactive Radio Counselling sessions form an important component of IGNOU's multimedia-based learner support system aimed at enhancing accessibility, learner engagement, and academic interaction.

The regular schedule of IRC sessions is provided in Table 10.

The University has adopted a learner-centric digital approach through these ePlatforms while effectively integrating national educational initiatives such as SWAYAM, SWAYAM PRABHA, and GyanDhara to promote holistic academic interaction and technology-enabled learning support.

The Regional Centres located across the country have also effectively utilised these ePlatforms for conducting teaching-learning activities, online counselling sessions, learner interaction, and delivery of comprehensive learner support services. A detailed account of the platform-wise usage by various Regional Centres is provided in Appendix 6.

4.9 Learning Management System (LMS)

A Learning Management System (LMS) is a web-based application designed for the administration, documentation, tracking, reporting, automation, and delivery of educational courses, training programmes, learning materials, and other academic and developmental activities. An LMS facilitates online learning by providing a centralised digital platform through which learners and educators can effectively engage in teaching-learning processes.

The LMS enables educators to create, organise, and manage course content, while allowing learners to access learning materials, participate in discussions, submit assignments, undertake quizzes, and engage in various academic activities. It also supports communication, interaction, assessment, and monitoring of learner progress within an online learning environment.

Indira Gandhi National Open University offers its online programmes through its dedicated Learning Management System, which serves as an integrated platform for delivering digital education and learner support services https://iop.ignouonline.ac.in/ (Fig. 27). The LMS facilitates structured online learning by providing access to e-content, interactive discussion forums, counselling support, assignments, assessments, and other academic resources, thereby ensuring a comprehensive and learner-centric online educational experience.

5.2 Special Support for Learners with Disabilities from July 2020 to June 2025 to ensure equitable access to quality higher education for learners with disabilities, in alignment with the objectives of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 and the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act (RPWD Act), 2016. These initiatives were aimed at promoting an inclusive and accessible learning environment while addressing the diverse academic, technological, and support needs of differently-abled learners across the country.

Key initiatives

The following initiatives have been taken for the learners with disabilities:

Accessible Learning Materials:

- Self-learning materials were made available in accessible formats such as screen reader-friendly PDFs, EPUB, and DAISY.

Screen Reader and Assistive Technology Compatibility:

- Digital content on IGNOU platforms (eGyanKosh, LMS, SWAYAM, etc.) was reviewed and updated to ensure compatibility with screen reading software (e.g., JAWS, NVDA).
- Video lectures were increasingly supplemented with closed captions and text transcripts to support learners with hearing impairments.

Accessible Digital Infrastructure:

- Enhancements were made to the IGNOU website and online platforms to comply with WCAG 2.1 accessibility standards.
- Features such as font size adjustment, contrast settings, and text-to-speech tools were incorporated.

Learner Support Services:

- The Learner Support Cell for Persons with Disabilities at the Student Service Centre (SSC) was strengthened to provide dedicated assistance.
- All the RCs have 'May I Help You' counters which are supervised by one of the academics posted at the Regional Centre. The counter aimed to provide learner support and facilitate learners' needs including learners with disabilities.

Inclusive Examination and Assessment Provisions:

- There is provision of scribes, extended time, and accessible question papers in large print or electronic formats as per the UGC norms prescribed for PwD learners.
- Special provisions were made during the COVID-19 pandemic to enable home-based or accessible centre-based examinations for learners with disabilities.

Capacity Building and Collaborations:

- IGNOU collaborated with organizations such as NIEPVD and Saksham for resource development, training, and technical support.
- Faculty and staff were sensitized through training programmes on inclusive teaching practices and accessible content development by University's dedicated centre on disability viz. National Centre for Disability Studies (NCDS).

These initiatives reflect the continued commitment of Indira Gandhi National Open University towards promoting inclusive and equitable education in accordance with the vision of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020. Through flexible, technology-enabled, and barrier-free learning environments, the University strives to ensure that learners with disabilities receive appropriate academic support, accessibility, and equal opportunities for participation and success in higher education.

5.2.1 Establishing Disability Cell in Regional Centres

In consonance with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), the mandate of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (RPWD) Act, 2016, and the institutional mandate of Indira Gandhi National Open University, the Regional Services Division (RSD) notified the establishment of Disability Cells in each Regional Centre on 17 May 2023.

The primary objective of these Disability Cells is to facilitate and support learners with disabilities enrolled in IGNOU in their academic pursuits and to empower them for effective mainstream participation in society. These Cells are designed to function as a single-point support mechanism at the Regional Centre level, providing coordinated academic, administrative, and learner support services to differently-abled learners.

5.3 Access to Education for Defence Personnel

5.3.1 IGNOU – Army, Navy, Assam Rifles Education Project

Indira Gandhi National Open University has established collaborations with the Indian Army, the Indian Navy, and the Assam Rifles to extend educational opportunities to defence personnel and their families through dedicated educational initiatives namely the IGNOU Army Education Project (IAEP), IGNOU Navy Education Project (INEP), and IGNOU Assam Rifles Education Project (IAREP).

Through these initiatives, the University has expanded the outreach of its academic programmes to defence personnel and their dependents by adopting a single-window support mechanism for admissions, learner support, and academic facilitation.

Under these projects, a total of twelve Recognised Regional Centres (RRCs) has been established across various military formations and commands, including seven RRCs within Army Headquarters Commands, four within Naval Commands, and one under the Directorate General Assam Rifles (DGAR). These centres play an important role in promoting educational access and facilitating academic activities within the defence sector.

Learner support services under these initiatives are provided through a network of 84 Learner Support Centres (LSCs) functioning under the respective command offices and establishments of the Army, Navy, and Assam Rifles. These centres facilitate academic counselling, learner support, administrative assistance, and access to educational resources for defence personnel and their families across different locations in the country.

i. IGNOU - Army Education Project (IAEP)

Indira Gandhi National Open University signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Indian Army on 24 May 1999 for an initial period of five years with the objective of extending the outreach of higher education opportunities to Army personnel and their dependents through the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system.

Under this initiative, the Human Resource Development Centres (HRDCs) located at the Headquarters of various Army Commands Kolkata (Eastern Command), Chandimandir (Western Command), Lucknow (Central Command), Pune (Southern Command), Udhampur (Northern Command), and Jaipur (South Western Command) were designated as Recognised Regional Centres (RRCs) of IGNOU.

The MoU between IGNOU and the Indian Army, initially executed for five years, has subsequently been renewed periodically on 24 May 2004, 24 May 2009, 24 May 2014, and 24 May 2019 for further periods of five years each, reflecting the continued collaboration between the two institutions in the field of higher education and learner support for defence personnel.

At present, there are six Recognised Regional Centres (RRCs) functioning under six different Army Commands across the country. These centres facilitate admissions, academic counselling, learner support services, and programme coordination for Army personnel and their dependents.

The glimpses of the ceremonies related to the renewal of the Memorandum of Understanding between Indira Gandhi National Open University and the Indian Army held during the period 2020–2025 are presented in Figs. 29 to 31.

ii.IGNOU - Navy Education Project (INEP)

A Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) between Indira Gandhi National Open University and the Indian Navy was signed on 23 September 2000 for undertaking a joint educational initiative known as the IGNOU-Navy Educational Project (INEP). The project was established with the objective of extending access to higher education opportunities to Naval personnel and their families through the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system.

Under this initiative, the Naval Headquarters at New Delhi and the Command Headquarters located at Mumbai (Western Naval Command), Visakhapatnam (Eastern Naval Command), and Cochin (Southern Naval Command) were designated as Naval Recognised Regional Centres (RRCs) of IGNOU.

The initial MoU between IGNOU and the Indian Navy was executed for a period of five years in 2020-2025. Thereafter, the agreement has been successfully renewed every five years in 2005, 2010, 2015, and most recently in 2020 thereby ensuring the continuation of academic collaboration and learner support services for Naval personnel.

At present, four Naval Recognised Regional Centres (RRCs) are functioning under this initiative, facilitating access to IGNOU academic programmes, learner support services, and educational opportunities for Naval staff and their dependents across different regions of the country.

Fig. 32: MoU Signing (RENEWAL) Ceremony between IGNOU and Indian Navy at IGNOU HQ on 12th Feb. 2021

iii. IGNOU Assam Rifles Education Project (IAREP)

The Assam Rifles, functioning under the Ministry of Defence (MoD), is another organisation that entered into collaboration with Indira Gandhi National Open University in the year 2002 with the objective of extending educational opportunities to Assam Rifles personnel and their families through the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system. The collaboration was initially established for a period of five years and was subsequently renewed in 2007, 2012, and 2017.

The initiative operates under the title IGNOU Assam Rifles Education Project (IAREP). The Headquarters of Assam Rifles located at Laitkor, Shillong functions as the Recognised Regional Centre (RRC) for the implementation and coordination of the IAREP.

The renewal of the latest Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) between IGNOU and Assam Rifles, which was due for completion on 20 April 2022, has been under process for a further period of five years.

To facilitate educational access and learner support services, eight identified Sector Headquarters and Units of Assam Rifles have been activated and made operational under the project. These centres provide access to IGNOU academic programmes and learner support services for Assam Rifles personnel and their dependents. The identified sectors and units are located at Jorhat, Kohima, Samsai (Ukhrul), Aizawl, Agartala, Dimapur, Tuensang, and Mantripukhri.

5.3.2 Single Window Operation through RSD

Under the Single Window Operations mechanism, the Regional Services Division (RSD) of Indira Gandhi National Open University functions as the nodal office for facilitating the smooth coordination and functioning of the Recognised Regional Centres (RRCs) across the country. This mechanism ensures streamlined academic, administrative, financial, and learner support services for defence personnel and their dependents enrolled under the defence education projects of the University.

The major activities undertaken under the Single Window Operations system include the following:

- Receipt of admission fees for offline admissions, wherever applicable, in the form of Demand Drafts (DDs) from the Recognised Regional Centres and processing them for credit into the University accounts through the Finance and Accounts Division (F&A) of IGNOU;
- Calculation of fee-sharing components based on online admission records obtained from the Student Registration Division (SRD), IGNOU;
- Coordination with the Student Evaluation Division (SED), Student Registration Division (SRD), Finance and Accounts Division (F&A), and Material Production and Distribution Division (MPDD) for matters related to examinations, admissions, financial processes, and study material distribution respectively;
- Coordination with SRD and F&A for the release of the prescribed share of funds to the IAEP Recognised Regional Centres on the basis of learner admissions;
- Processing and resolution of learner-related matters, including grievances, non-receipt of study materials, issuance of migration certificates, verification of documents, and other learner support services;
- Monitoring and coordination of academic activities conducted through the Recognised Regional Centres; and

- Facilitation of the renewal process of Memoranda of Understanding (MoUs) with the collaborating defence organisations.

Facilitation of RRCs

To facilitate the effective operation and functioning of the Recognised Regional Centres (RRCs), the Regional Services Division (RSD) of Indira Gandhi National Open University, in the 47th meeting of the Student Services Committee (SSC) held on 7 March 2020, approved the proposal for attaching the RRCs to the nearest IGNOU Regional Centres (RCs).

Subsequently, in continuation of this initiative, the 50th meeting of the SSC held on 29 July 2021 approved detailed guidelines to ensure effective coordination between the attached IGNOU Regional Centres and the Recognised Regional Centres.

Accordingly, the RRCs utilise the academic and learner support resources available at their respective coordinating IGNOU Regional Centres for facilitating academic activities, counselling support, learner services, and other operational requirements.

5.3.3 MoU with Defence Forces for offering Skill Based Bachelor's Degree Programmes for Agniveers

In alignment with the vision and objectives of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, Indira Gandhi National Open University has introduced a Skill-based Bachelor Degree Programme that integrates theoretical knowledge in core academic disciplines with practical skills acquired by Defence Services personnel during their in-service training.

To facilitate the implementation of this initiative, the Indian Army, the Indian Navy, and the Indian Air Force signed Memoranda of Understanding (MoUs) with IGNOU on 22 December 2022 for offering the Skill-based Bachelor Degree Programmes to Agniveers.

The scheme provides for the recognition and acceptance of credits earned through National Skills Qualifications Framework (NSQF)-aligned skill training courses at Level 4.5 and above, undertaken by Agniveers during their service within the respective Defence Establishments. This initiative aims to support lifelong learning, skill development, academic progression, and future career opportunities for Defence personnel in accordance with the principles of flexibility and multidisciplinary education envisioned in NEP 2020.

Fig. 33: MoU signed with Indian Army, Indian Navy, and Indian Air Force on 22-12-2022

The glimpses of the MoU signing ceremonies between Indira Gandhi National Open University and the Indian Army, Indian Navy, and Indian Air Force are presented is presented in Fig. 33.

5.3.4 A Skill Based Bachelor's Degree for Agniveers

The scheme is specifically designed for Soldiers, Sailors, and Airmen recruited as Agniveers in the Indian Defence Forces. Under this initiative, the skill training imparted through Defence training establishments is recognised by the National Council for Vocational Education and Training (NCVET) for the purpose of credit transfer towards the award of a degree by Indira Gandhi National Open University under the special academic framework developed for Agniveers.

As part of the scheme, Agniveers enrolled in the University are required to complete 50 per cent of the prescribed credits through general higher education courses offered by IGNOU, while the remaining credits are earned through the transfer of credits from skill education and training received at Defence institutions. This integrated model promotes the recognition of prior learning and skill-based education in alignment with the principles of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 and the National Skills Qualifications Framework (NSQF).

The Regional Services Division (RSD) functions as the nodal division for coordinating and facilitating the implementation of activities under this scheme.

i. Project Objective

The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 emphasises the integration of vocational education with higher education through the adoption of flexible and multidisciplinary models of learning. In alignment with these objectives, Indira Gandhi National Open University has developed a scheme to facilitate the vertical mobility of Armed Forces learners into its academic programmes.

The proposed framework enables Armed Forces personnel to pursue higher education opportunities alongside their vocational and skill-based training, thereby supporting lifelong learning, academic progression, and career advancement. Under this initiative, IGNOU provides Armed Forces learners with the opportunity to simultaneously enrol in Bachelor-level programmes offered by the University while continuing their service and skill development activities.

Under the scheme, the following objectives have been envisaged:

- To create opportunities for vertical mobility and higher educational advancement for serving Armed Forces personnel possessing 10+2 qualifications; and
- To align with the objectives of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 by promoting the integration of Social Sciences and Humanities with Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) disciplines through multidisciplinary and flexible learning pathways.

ii. Programmes on Offer for Agniveers

Indira Gandhi National Open University has signed Memoranda of Understanding (MoUs) with the Indian Army, the Indian Navy, and the Indian Air Force to facilitate the recognition of in-service skill education and training undertaken by Agniveers and to enable the award of Skill-based Bachelor's Degrees under the special academic scheme developed for Defence personnel.

Under this scheme, the following academic programmes are offered:

- BAAS: Bachelor of Arts (Applied Skills)
- BAASTM: Bachelor of Arts (Applied Skills) (Tourism Management)
- BAASMSME: Bachelor of Arts (Applied Skills) (Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises)
- BCOMAS: Bachelor of Commerce (Applied Skills)
- BSCAS: Bachelor of Science (Applied Skills)

iii. Structure of Skilled Based Bachelor Degree Programmes

To get the bachelor's degree from IGNOU under this scheme, Agniveers must successfully complete the skill component imparted by the IA/IN/IAF (60 credits) as well as the courses under IGNOU component (60 credits).

iv. Student Support Services for Agniveers

IGNOU RCs located in Dehradun, Jaipur, Lucknow, Patna, Pune, and Shimla have been designated as Nodal Centres to provide support services for learners enrolled in the Skill-Based Bachelor's Degree Programme.

5.4 Promotion and Awareness Programmes for Defence and Armed Forces

RCs serve as key facilitators in coordinating with local and central agencies within their respective regions to provide higher education opportunities for personnel in the defence and armed forces. A glimpse of an awareness programme conducted for Defence personnel is presented in Fig. 34.

5.5 Access to Higher Education for Jail inmates

Indira Gandhi National Open University has been actively promoting inclusive and equitable access to education for prison inmates by offering free educational opportunities through its Special Learner Support Centres (SLSCs) established in prisons across the country. Initiated in 2010, this programme utilises the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system to facilitate rehabilitation, skill development, competency enhancement, and educational empowerment of prison inmates.

Through this initiative, IGNOU offers:

- Free Education: IGNOU waives fees for all jail inmates enrolled in its programs.
- *Special Learner Support Centres: As of now, a total 181 SLSCs have been set up in jail/prisons across the country
- Women's Education: Specialised facilities, like Mahila Jail Jaipur, offer instruction specifically designed for female prisoners.

Since the launch of its "Free Education for Jail Inmates" initiative in 2010, Indira Gandhi National Open University has progressively expanded its outreach by establishing Special Learner Support Centres (SLSCs) in prisons across the country. These centres facilitate access to higher education, skill development, and rehabilitation-oriented learning opportunities for prison inmates through the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system.

The State-wise distribution and presence of Special Learner Support Centres established in jails are presented in Table 11.

 Includes 1 Regular LSC (0719), under Regional Centre, Delhi -3 for Inmates and 08 Sub-LSCs under Regular LSC 0719 (Tihar Jail Delhi)*

The Regional Centres (RCs) of Indira Gandhi National Open University actively undertake various educational initiatives to strengthen access to higher education opportunities for jail inmates through the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system. These initiatives aim to promote rehabilitation, skill development, educational empowerment, and social reintegration of prison inmates.

Some of the major activities and initiatives undertaken in this regard are highlighted below:

a) Lucknow

IGNOU Regional Centre Lucknow organised a Paricharcha programme at Model Jail, Lucknow on Sunday, 10 December 2023 (Fig. 35). The programme focused on important themes such as Employment-Oriented Programmes of Indira Gandhi National Open University, Nasha Mukti Abhiyaan (Drug De-addiction Campaign), and Udyamita Vikas (Entrepreneurship Development).

During the programme, officials from IGNOU and the Jail Administration, along with social workers and entrepreneurship experts, shared their views and interacted with the inmates on issues related to education, skill development, rehabilitation, entrepreneurship, and social empowerment. The initiative aimed at creating awareness about educational and self-development opportunities available to jail inmates through the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system.

b) NOIDA

Officials from the NOIDA RC visited Dasna Jail to conduct a promotional and awareness drive for the inmates (Fig. 36). During their visit, they provided detailed insights into IGNOU's educational programmes, emphasising opportunities for skill development and academic growth available to prisoners.

and the nation. In consonance with the mandate and vision of NEP 2020, Indira Gandhi National Open University has undertaken several initiatives to promote multilingual and inclusive learner support services.

As part of these initiatives, the University has been providing Channel-Based Counselling (CBC) through various regional languages for CBCS (Choice Based Credit System)-based programmes and the MBA programme on SWAYAM Prabha channels with effect from 1 January 2022.

Initially, the Channel-Based Counselling initiative was operationalised across 20 Regional Centres (RCs) using four SWAYAM Prabha channels for CBCS courses offered in 13 languages, namely Assamese, Bengali, English, Gujarati, Hindi, Kannada, Malayalam, Marathi, Odia, Punjabi, Tamil, Telugu, and Urdu (Fig. 39). Subsequently, the initiative was extended to the MBA programme through Regional Centres such as Delhi-1, Bhubaneswar, and Patna. Later, Mizo and Manipuri languages were also incorporated into the counselling framework to further strengthen linguistic inclusivity and accessibility.

The details of Channel-Based Counselling sessions conducted across 16 Regional Centres up to 15 May 2025 is presented in Table 12.

6. Career Guidance and Placement Services

Guidance and Placement Services provide inclusive support to learners and job seekers in navigating their career pathways and professional development opportunities. Indira Gandhi National Open University extends career guidance and placement assistance to its bonafide learners by helping them identify their interests, strengths, and career aspirations, while also supporting the development of essential employability and professional skills.

Through its placement support mechanisms, campus placement initiatives, and the network of alumni positioned across different sectors and regions of India, the University facilitates access to suitable employment opportunities for learners. These services also play an important role in bridging the gap between educational institutions and the job market by connecting learners with prospective employers and industry opportunities.

6.1 Campus Placements at Headquarters

Indira Gandhi National Open University actively organises career guidance webinars, virtual counselling sessions, and employability-oriented programmes for learners, often in collaboration with organisations such as UNICEF and other institutional partners. These initiatives are aimed at providing learners with career guidance, skill enhancement opportunities, and information related to employment prospects across diverse sectors.

In addition, IGNOU regularly conducts campus placement drives, recruitment initiatives, job fairs, and placement-related activities at both the Headquarters and Regional Centres (RCs). These programmes are designed to facilitate employment opportunities for learners by connecting them with potential employers, industry representatives, and professional organisations across various fields and sectors.

6.2 Placement Drives at Regional Centres

The Regional Centres (RCs) of Indira Gandhi National Open University actively participate in a wide range of career counselling and guidance initiatives aimed at supporting learners in their professional development and enhancing their employment opportunities. These initiatives provide structured guidance, industry exposure, and career-related resources to help learners effectively navigate diverse career pathways.

Through expert-led sessions, webinars, interactive discussions, and counselling programmes, learners gain valuable insights into job readiness, employability skills, career planning, and emerging employment opportunities across different sectors. These activities contribute significantly towards enhancing learners' professional competencies and awareness of career prospects.

The Regional Centres also organise webinars on career counselling, undertake awareness and orientation activities related to employment opportunities, and prepare promotional materials such as flyers and brochures highlighting the employability aspects of various academic programmes offered by the University. In addition, RCs conduct job fairs, facilitate campus placement and recruitment drives, and actively participate in employment-oriented initiatives such as Rozgar Mela to strengthen placement opportunities for learners.

The year-wise status of Campus Placement Drives, Recruitment Drives, and Job Fairs organised at the Headquarters and Regional Centres is presented in Table 13.

7. Empowering IGNOU Learners

Indira Gandhi National Open University empowers learners through a comprehensive and skill-oriented academic framework that integrates fieldwork, project work, internships, practical training, and experiential learning opportunities. These components are designed to strengthen learners' practical competencies, professional skills, and real-world understanding alongside theoretical knowledge.

The University fosters an interactive and learner-centric environment by enabling learners to engage with peers, Academic Counsellors, mentors, and subject experts through digital platforms, social media, and face-to-face interactions at Regional Centres (RCs) and Learner Support Centres (LSCs). Such engagement promotes collaborative learning, academic interaction, and continuous learner support.

IGNOU also provides extensive online learning support through platforms such as SWAYAM and SWAYAM Prabha, enabling learners to access quality educational resources remotely and flexibly.

In addition to academic learning, learners actively participate in community engagement and extension activities under national initiatives such as Unnat Bharat Abhiyan, Har Ghar Tiranga, Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam, and Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat. Participation in these initiatives helps learners develop social awareness, civic responsibility, and community engagement while contributing to nation-building activities.

The University also encourages innovation, creativity, and critical thinking among learners by motivating them to explore new ideas, approaches, and solutions. Further value addition to learners' knowledge and professional development is facilitated through insightful and informative webinars, seminars, workshops, and expert interactions organised across various disciplines and themes.

7.1 Innovation Club for IGNOU Learners

Innovation Clubs have been established in all the Regional Centres (RCs) of Indira Gandhi National Open University to provide a dedicated platform for nurturing innovation, creativity, and entrepreneurial skills among learners. In alignment with the mandates of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 and the IGNOU Institutional Development Plan (IDP) 2030, the Regional Centres have been entrusted with the responsibility of encouraging active participation of learners, alumni, Academic Counsellors, and other stakeholders in innovation-oriented activities.

These initiatives aim to promote knowledge creation at the local and regional levels while fostering entrepreneurship, problem-solving abilities, and innovative thinking within the learner community.

To further strengthen innovation and capacity-building in the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system, the University has established the National Centre for Innovations in Distance Education (NCIDE), which serves as a dedicated centre for promoting and supporting innovation, creativity, and entrepreneurial initiatives among teachers and learners.

The Innovation Clubs functioning under the Regional Centres have undertaken several initiatives in coordination with NCIDE, including the following:

- RDs worked as Innovation Ambassadors duly trained by the Ministry of Education Innovation Cell. Present Regional Director of RC Bhopal and Director RSD, also worked as Coordinator of the mentor-mentee programmes of MOE and as Vice President of Innovation Council (IIC) of IGNOU.
- Majority of RCs took initiatives to promote entrepreneurship and to mentor the learners for startup development. The reports of such initiatives have been sent to NCIDE. Glimpses of webinars organised by the Innovation club of RCs are presented in Fig. 40.

Fig. 40: Innovation and Start-up activities at RCs

7.2 Webinars, Podcasts and Sessions on Mental health & Life Skills

The RCs of IGNOU regularly organise webinars and online interactive sessions to create awareness about IGNOU's academic programmes, learner support services, placement activities, and other institutional initiatives. These webinars serve as important platforms for learner engagement, academic interaction, capacity building, and dissemination of information.

The webinars have been conducted on a wide range of themes, including Life Skills, Study Skills, Social Skills, Skills for Distance Learners, Time Management, Values and Ethics, Effective Use of Online Education, e-Counselling, e-Induction, e-Orientation, e-Refresher Courses, Emerging Technologies for Education and Research, and Blended Learning, among others. These sessions aim to strengthen learners' academic preparedness, digital competencies, and overall personal and professional development.

In addition, the Regional Centres have organised webinars and awareness programmes on various national and international occasions such as International Yoga Day, World Environment Day, International Women's Day, Vigilance Awareness Week, and similar observances to promote social awareness, health, well-being, and civic responsibility among learners and stakeholders.

Recordings of many of these webinars and interactive sessions have been uploaded on the respective YouTube channels of the Regional Centres to facilitate wider accessibility and future reference for learners.

Further, during October 2023, a Special Campaign 3.0 was organised under which several webinars and awareness activities were conducted across Regional Centres. Eminent resource persons, experts, and academicians were invited by the RCs to deliver talks and interact with learners on diverse academic, professional, and socially relevant themes.

8. Feedback and Quality Improvement

The Centre for Internal Quality Assurance (CIQA) at Indira Gandhi National Open University has played a significant role in strengthening and enhancing the quality of Open and Distance Learning (ODL) through systematic feedback collection, data-driven analysis, and continuous quality improvement mechanisms.

CIQA regularly collects and analyses feedback from various stakeholders, including learners, teachers, Academic Counsellors, alumni, and employers, to assess the effectiveness of academic programmes, learner support services, and institutional processes. In addition, the Centre utilises analytics and performance indicators to monitor learner engagement, participation, academic progress, and overall institutional performance.

Through these initiatives, CIQA has established robust institutional mechanisms for continuous quality enhancement, evidence-based decision-making, and the promotion of learner-centric and outcome-oriented educational practices within the University's ODL system.

8.1 Collection of Feedback through Structured Surveys and Digital Tools

During this period, the Centre for Internal Quality Assurance (CIQA) developed and implemented structured feedback mechanisms to systematically collect insights and observations from various stakeholders, including learners, teachers, Academic Counsellors, alumni, and employers. These feedback tools were designed with a focus on outcome-based teaching-learning practices and were aligned with the principles of the Learning Outcomes-based Curriculum Framework (LOCF).

The feedback mechanisms were effectively integrated into the University's academic and administrative processes to ensure that the perspectives and experiences of learners and other stakeholders contributed meaningfully to the continuous improvement and enhancement of academic programmes, learner support services, and institutional practices within the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system.

8.2 Institutional Mechanisms for Continuous Improvement Based on Learners Inputs

CIQA established robust institutional mechanisms to ensure continuous improvement based on learner feedback. Significant initiatives included:

- Annual Revision of Feedback Tools: CIQA revised feedback tools every year to capture the experiences and suggestions of learners, facilitating more effective quality enhancement measures.
- Preparation of Feedback Analysis Reports: Comprehensive analysis of collected feedback was conducted every year to identify areas of improvement and to help decision-making processes.
- Development of the Learner Charter: CIQA prepared the Learner Charter of IGNOU, outlining the rights and responsibilities of learners, thereby promoting transparency and accountability.

- Implementation of NEP 2020: CIQA played a pivotal role in drafting policies and Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) for the implementation of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 at IGNOU.

Timely Feedback to Support Learner Progress and Performance

Feedback constitutes an integral component of the teaching-learning process at Indira Gandhi National Open University. The University actively seeks feedback from learners and other stakeholders to identify areas requiring improvement and to strengthen the quality and effectiveness of educational delivery within the Open and Distance Learning (ODL) system.

During the period from July 2020 to June 2025, the Centre for Internal Quality Assurance (CIQA) undertook significant initiatives towards enhancing educational quality through systematic feedback collection, analytics-based monitoring, and institutional quality improvement measures. For instance, a feedback study conducted by CIQA through a structured questionnaire during the academic year 2021–2022, in coordination with the Regional Services Division (RSD), revealed that 61 per cent of learners either agreed or strongly agreed with the effectiveness of the teaching-learning process at the University.

Such structured feedback mechanisms provide valuable insights into learner experiences, academic engagement, and institutional effectiveness, thereby supporting evidence-based improvements in academic programmes and learner support services. The feedback processes also ensure that learners receive constructive support and improved educational experiences that contribute towards continuous academic development and successful learning outcomes.

By integrating digital platforms, maintaining rigorous evaluation standards, strengthening learner support mechanisms, and prioritising stakeholder feedback, the University has ensured continuity, accessibility, and quality in education delivery for its diverse learner community. These efforts have contributed significantly towards improving learner satisfaction, academic performance, and institutional effectiveness, while aligning the University's practices with national educational priorities and the objectives of inclusive and quality higher education.

9. The Way Forward

IGNOU has been a pioneer in democratizing education through ODDL in India. The following are some recommendations that the University can adopt to make learning environment more supportive:

9.1 Technology Integration and Innovation

IGNOU is pioneer in integration on ICT in higher education, yet following steps may be helpful to make education more accessible:

- Digital Learning Platforms: Platforms like eGyanKosh and IGNOU's Learning Management System (LMS) are designed to be user-friendly, mobile-optimized, and enriched with multimedia capabilities, ensuring a seamless and engaging learning experience. This should be ensured that platforms are user-friendly, mobile- optimized, and support multimedia content.
- IGNOU Mobile Learning app: There is need to promote and improve the IGNOU mobile app which ensures seamless access to course materials, assignments, discussion forums, and live sessions, providing learners with an intuitive and efficient digital learning experience.
- Interactive Content and Engagement: University should include engaging and interactive learning content by incorporating gamification, quizzes, and case studies that can significantly enhance learner's motivation, retention, and participation. Further, there should be provision of discussion forums and peer-to-peer learning spaces moderated by tutors which can significantly enhance learner engagement, collaboration, and knowledge retention.
- Intervention: Use of AI-driven adaptive learning technology may be introduced to personalise course material, assessments, and feedback based on individual learner's needs using data analytics of the learners

9.2 Infrastructure and Access

A proper physical infrastructure is pre-requisite to establish a meaningful teaching learning ecosystem.

- Internet Connectivity and Device Access: IGNOU can collaborate with government or private sectors to enhance affordable internet connectivity in rural and remote areas. University should develop offline access solutions such as downloadable content and pre-loaded USB drives.
- Regional Centres and Support: There is a need to upgrade RCs with digital infrastructure for learner facilitation, including latest technology in computer labs with video and tele-conferencing facilities. It will encourage learners for their active participation and IRC and TC sessions.

9.3 Learner Support Services

University should work on strengthening online counselling, mentoring, and academic support which should be accessible through chatbots and real-time messaging. It should provide orientation and digital literacy training for learners unfamiliar with technology.

- Mental and Psychological Support: IGNOU should provide Mental Health and Well-Being Support through Psychological Counselling Services, which aim to foster emotional resilience, stress management, and academic well-being. These services provide personalised guidance, helping learners navigate challenges related to academic pressure, career uncertainties, and personal concerns.
- Promote Collaborative and Social Learning: An initiative may be taken to build a virtual community of learners based on programme, courses, regions, or interests to reduce isolation and foster peer support. The curriculum may be upgraded to encourage collaborative assignments and group projects using digital tools such as Google Workspace, MS Teams, or open-source alternatives.

9.4 Comprehensive Monitoring System

A monitoring is essential to follow learners academic progress, that helps to find out early dropouts, identify the weakness of the learners and tailor support interventions. To address high dropout rate, the following measures may be implemented:

- Regular engagement with existing learners through LSCs, RCs, and headquarters to foster a sense of connection and support.
- Enhancing the programme guide to make it more user-friendly and accessible for learners.
- Clear communication in confirmation emails, explicitly mentioning the minimum and maximum duration of the programme.
- Providing an opportunity for students who have left the programme with minimal credits to complete their studies.

These steps would help motivate students to continue their education, support them in successfully completing their programme, minimise dropout rates, and student attrition.
