Classroom teaching is essential for students. Teachers come to the class, teach the students, and clear their doubts then and there. But today's students are not willing to attend classes. They come to college only to have been and mingle around. They complete college hours by sitting in cafeteria.

It is necessary to bring students to the class. Granting of marks on the basis of their attendance is the only way to bring them to class. They will attend their classes in order to obtain marks of attendance. If they come to class, they will definitely learn something. Every student is after marks. Nothing can force them to attend their classes other than marks. Granting of marks is a motivating factor that can attract the students to attend their classes. Hence, the system of granting of marks on the basis of their attendance in the class is a better way to make the students to attend their classes.
